CLINTON HIGH SCHOOL

MEMORABILIA

VOLUME XXVII

PUBLISHED BY THE

SENIOR CLASS of 1940

JUNE 26, 1940

DEDICATION

The Class of 1940

dedicates its year book to Miss Mary Kerrigan whose wisdom has guided us through our four years at Clinton High.

IN APPRECIATION

Thomas F. Gibbons

It may be said, without reserve, that every member of our graduating class has benefited, directly or indirectly, from the guiding hand of our Superintendent of Schools. He has directed our efforts in our plastic and formative years, has supervised and influenced us in countless unrecorded ways. It is fitting that we here show, though meagerly, our appreciation for a man whose dignity of character, intellectual leadership, and devotion to whatever he deemed the welfare of our schools, always has been and always will be an inspiration to the students of Clinton.

Eben S. Cobb

By his professional stimulation, personal encouragement and technical guidance, he has for a score of years insured the successful machination of Clinton High School. He has contributed in no small way to the Clinton student's achievement of the great aim of education, that is, to be best fitted for the position he is to occupy in life and to make the world a better place in which to live.

Tribute to the Faculty

As we leave the sheltering care of our Alma Mater, it is fitting and proper that we should pause at the portals of the old school, turn back a moment to salute and pay tribute to the devoted group of men and women who constitute the faculty.

During four vitally important adolescent years it has been their onerous task to mould our lives and shape our destinies. Such success in life as we may hereafter attain will be due in great measure to their untiring labor, wise counsel and professional skill.

For forbearance with our faults, for patience with our frailties, for needed restraint and guidance of misdirected youthful energies with hands that were firm, but kind, withal; for the inspiration of high ideas of duty and good example; for all they have been to us, we shall always hold them in grateful remembrance.

Therefore, to the superintendent, principal, and each and every member of the faculty of Clinton High School, we, the Class of nineteen-forty, say with the utmost sincerity:

Foreword

These lines are fashioned, rhyme on rhyme,
And word by word, one at a time.
And so it is the wide world through
There are so many tasks to do,
Yet all of them come not at once
But with the days and weeks and months
And long, glad years in which we build
The purpose of our being filled
With bonds of faith and truth and love,
And hopes that reach the skies above.

RONALD A. ALLEN

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Junior Prom Committee

"Be not simply good, be good for something."

Ronald, known to his many classmates as "Porky" comes from Berlin. His intrinsic sense of humor and witty disposition have gained many friends here. He takes an active interest in all sports, skating being his favorite.

His ambition is to go to Burdett College and be a successful business man. The class of '40 wishes him hearty success.

FLORENCE BAKER

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee, Treasurer of Shorthand Circle.

"Her modesty is a candle to her merits."

"Flo" is seldom seen without a smile. Being in the same chemistry class with Florence, we often wondered, as did Mr. McSherry, at the sudden outburst of laughter that followed after consultation with her neighbor "Billy" who sat behind her. We wonder if Chemistry is her favorite subject.

"Flo" is a regular football fan, and a game isn't complete without her presence.

She is interested in the nursing profession and we know that wherever she goes, she will succeed.

The class of "40" wishes you the best of luck, Florence.

EDWARD BARLOW

General Course

Photography Club, History Circle, Tau Sigma

A gentleman who prefers blondes."

Edward is the typical business man of our class. Extremely courteous, an able conversationalist — the perfect attributes of a business career. "Ed" has a good general knowledge of the arts, particularly music in which he excels.

Although he didn't actively participate in sports, he proved himself an ardent supporter in cheering our teams on toward victory.

His plans are indefinite, but we feel sure his success lies in attaining a coveted position in the business world.

ANGELINE MARY BATTISTA

College Course

Photography Club, History Circle, Class Book Staff, Secretary '3-4, Junior Prom Committee.

"Efficiency + popular deserves attention."

Angie is known throughout the school for her sense of humor. She always has a smile for everybody. When she enters a room everything seems to pick up because she is never at a loss for words.

She was elected Secretary in our Senior year. That emphasizes the fact that she is a good friend to all and believes in fair play.

Her ambition is to be a dietician, and we all know she is bound to succeed and make the class of '40 proud of her senior class secretary.

JOHN BERGERO

General Course

History Circle, Orchestra, Thanksgiving Night Show, Tau Sigma.

"Music has its charms."

Johnny, the "Jimmy Dorsey" of the class was a familiar sight at our class entertainments sitting in with the orchestra. Despite the fact that a great deal of his spare time was taken up playing with various orchestras, still he managed to squeeze in a few odd moments with his books.

Johnny will be remembered by 1940 as a quiet, agreeable, and all-round good sport; always glad and willing to help out when help was needed.

Present plans call for him following his sax into a musical career, and knowing Johnny we feel sure that some day he will be in the sax section of one of the nation's big dance bands — that's the wish of 1940.

NATHALIE FRANCES BRIGHAM

Commercial Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Class Book Staff, Junior Prom Committee, Photography Club.

"What sweet delights a quiet life affords."

Nathalie, although far from six feet tall, makes up for this lack of stature by never ailing vitality and pep. "Nat" as she is known to her many friends, when not at the theatre, can generally be found studying her shorthand or pounding the keys of her typewriter. This accounts for her name appearing on the testimonial list. The best of wishes from the Class of 1940 go to "Nat" for the success in her Secretarial work.

MARGARET HAZEL BROWN

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle, Shorthand Circle.

"There is no genius like the genius of energy and wisdom."

Margaret is one of the quiet, unobtrusive members of the senior class whose name appears regularly on the testimonial list. She excells in typing; her nimble fingers fly rhythmically over the keys. Her willingness to help and her cheerful smile have won her many friends.

Best of luck to you Margaret in whatever you choose to do.

VERN BROWNELL

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle.

"Today I am a man."

Vern is one of our boys, who though not engaged in sports is popular with his fellow students. His best loves in sports are skiing and skating.

Vern can always be seen with Ray around school, particularly in Mr. Gordon's office.

He does not neglect his pleasures for study but always manages to get his points.

Vern's quiet nature and amiable disposition have won for him many friends and the Class of 1940 wishes him the best of luck.

JOHN BURGOYNE

College Course

Photography Club, Tau Sigma, History Circle, Thanksgiving Show, Junior Marshal, Junior Prom Committee, Class Book Staff

Every man is a volume
If you know how to read him

Six feet two, eyes of blue, this is the best description we can give of John. One of the most popular members of the class of '40. He is well known for his lengthy dissuasions which he had with Miss Kerrigan on matters pertaining to French IV. Most often heard was: "Well, Miss Kerrigan, I don't quite agree with you." John could not pass by anyone without being noticed because of his phenomenal height. His pleasing personality made him well liked by members of his class and the faculty.

JEAN SCOTT CAMPBELL

College Course

French Club, History Circle, Honorary Member of Historical Society, Prom Committee, Class Book Staff, Photography Club

"A certain charm, a lovely smile."

Dimples flash with the gay smile that belongs to Jeanie. She is a joyous person who is in the midst of all the social events of the school. Never has it been known that she was any place where she did not have a good time and more than her share of fun.
Jean was liked by all her teachers as well as her classmates. She always had something pleasant to say to everyone and as a result she was known by all from freshman to senior.

ANNA CARUSO

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Sweet to hear and slow to speak."

Anna is one of the most popular girls in her class. As a student she has had a good record in her four years of high school.
She expects to enter the Burbank Hospital, Fitchburg for training in the fall. Let us bid "Ann," farewell by wishing her success, already assured by her singular qualities as a student and friend.

EARL JOSEPH CATMEN

Commercial Course

Thanksgiving Show, History Circle, Tau Sigma, Thanksgiving Show.

Cheerful people live long in our memories."

And now comes Earl, the lad who never worries. Whenever he was told to report for a P.M., he would rise and say in an emphatic and assuring tone of voice, "I gotta peddle puppers."
Earl is at present employed in his spare time at the First National, and plans to enter Trade School this fall. Your classmates wish you the best of luck, Earl.

EDWARD CECCHINI

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle, Tau Sigma, Junior Prom Committee, Orchestra, Thanksgiving Show.

"Mischief in his eye, Music in his heart."

"Let's get in the mood." Edward Cecchini, better known as "Chick" is famous for that "makes you want to dance" music. "Chick" plays in the well-known orchestra, the Jive Kings which played at the basketball dances in the Armory and many other places. He has played the violin in the school orchestra for four years and is one of the best-liked boys in the class of 1940.

CLEOPATRA CHIAMIS

Commercial Course

Shorthand Circle, History Circle, Photography Club.

"She is safe, who does her best."

To describe such a classmate is a pleasure. Cheerful, loving, and good-natured "Patty" has won many friends, because of her good sportsmanship.

During her four years "Cleo" has taken an active part in school activities. Lessons never seem to bother "Cleo," but she always manages to get by.

"Cleo" plans to be a stenographer and the best wishes of the Class of '40 go with her.

PHILIP P. CHIAVARIS

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, Photography Club, History Circle, High School Orchestra.

Phil is one of the quietest boys of the High School. Although he has not taken any active part in sports, he is a great enthusiastic fan. He hopes to succeed in the mechanical field. He has taken part in all high school affairs, and is leader of a local orchestra. Although he is not a testimonial pupil, he has managed to get by in his subjects with room to spare.

MARY ELIZABETH CLAXTON

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

Dark hair, blue eyes, sunny disposition, all go to make Mary. That Mary is a favorite of her classmates is of little wonder, for she is usually the girl who's bubbling over with mirth. Although she is undecided as to what career she wants to follow, we know, however, that she will meet with success in whatever she attempts. 1940 wishes you heaps of luck in whatever your choice might be.

JOSEPH COLLINS

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle

[illegible]

Joe is one of the better known boys around school. He is renowned for his ever present smile and dashing manner. Joe is sure to be found in the middle of any argument in class and generally on the winning side.

Having already been a salesman for two years we feel quite sure that he will go far in this his chosen career.

By the way, we mustn't forget that "Handsome Joe" is regarded as one of the most proficient dancers in town.

JACK STANTON CUMMINGS

College Course

Tau Sigma, Senior Show, Photograph Club, History Circle, Literary Club.

"Hail fellow, well met."

Jack is a late comer to our class but, possessing a grand personality, he was quick to make many friends. Jack is quite an actor. We shall never forget his great performance in the Senior show, as the Author, and "Funam bu list." Strange as it may seem, Jack's one ambition is to become a great author. If he can write a part as well as he can play one, we know that he will succeed.

We hope to see your name on books in our library someday, Jack. Good luck.

DORIS EVA DE BLOIS

Normal Course

[illegible] Circle, Log Book Staff, Junior Prom Committee, History Circle

I would rather be ovalish and shine
Than be large, and cast a shadow."

Most of us know "Dot" for her cute smile that never seems to wear off. Her work in school is neat, complete, and original. She is always willing to help her fellow students both in and out of school. The numerous testimonials that Dot has received signify that many hours are spent on her studies. As for recreation -- one of her favorite hobbies is roller skating. She also likes ice skating, skiing, and swimming.

HARRY C. DESPOTOPULOS

College Course

Class Play, History Circle, Track, Soph Baseball, Junior Prom Committee.

"Half-wit and whole comet."

Now we come to the one and only salesman this Clinton High School has ever had. Yes we mean that man of Church Street and a member of "The Fire Station Gang," Harry C. Despotopulos. We see Harry in a corner almost every day during the school year getting into an argument over "Artie Shaw" which is his favorite orchestra, and "Reo Speed Wagon" which is his favorite truck.

Harry wishes to become a salesman and has decided to enter Business School. Best of luck from the class of 1940.

HARRY S. DESPOTOPULOS

Technical Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Historical Society, Class Book Staff, Junior Prom Committee.

"Ability to start, and ability to finish."

Known better for his outstanding characteristics of quiet-bearing and pleasing personality, Harry has steadily and sincerely won the friendship of all his classmates. Achieving the dubious distinction of being known as the best punster in the class, he has overbalanced this by his studiousness and consequent consistent honors. To merely wish him success, is to minimize our hopes. Best of luck Harry from the class of 1940.

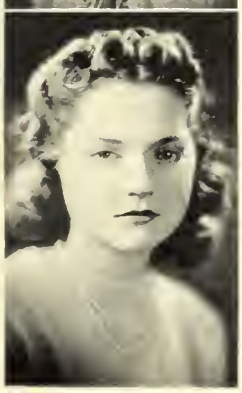
NICHOLAS CHARLES DESPOTOPULOS

College Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Football, Junior Prom Committee.

"Sport that wrinkled care derides."

"Nick" is a lover of all types of sports. He is a very sensible man always smiling, laughing, and having fun in his class rooms. As you all know, Nick is another member of "The Fire-Station Gang." He is a popular fan of Benny Goodman. Nick is planning to enter Yale, and we hope that he will realize his ambition.



SHEILA PAUL DEVANEY

College Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Field Hockey, Junior Prom Committee.

"Your wit makes others witty."

Intelligent, good natured and a bright smile describes Sheila. Her ever-present friendly spirit and her good sportsmanship have gained for her a host of friends with boys and girls alike. She attended all social activities and gave her whole-hearted support.

"Sheil" is an accomplished pianist and possesses a lovely singing voice. Her favorite pastime is reading.

Sheila is undecided as to her future vocation but plans to attend Regis College. The best wishes of the class of '40 go with you "Sheil."

BEATRICE ROSALIE DOWD

College Course

History Circle, Prom Committee, Historical Society, Photography Club, Basketball, Field Hockey, Class Sec. Junior Year.

"A woman's hair is her crowning glory."

Our eyes are magnetically drawn toward the charming Miss with the bright crown of red hair. She is know among her friends as "Bea." Her pleasant manner has supplied her with many friends. Never missing a social function and never without a partner, Bea has added joy to our four years at C.H.S. She plans to enter the field of nursing and we feel certain she will meet with success. Good luck, Bea, from the Class of 1940.

ANNA ELIZABETH DURKIN

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Social Ministry Show

"Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep" but Anna never weeps, she is one of the most pleasant and carefree girls of the class of 1940.

Durk is one of our most popular girls, as no one can resist her charming personality. Durk seems to be having a wonderful time. Although Anna never took studying too seriously, she has always been successful in anything she undertook.

Anna's ambition is to be a nurse. We are certain that when she dons her white uniform she will be a great success because of her sunny disposition and cheery smile.

EDWARD DYLEWICZ

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Every man must reach success in his own way."

Edward will never be remembered by his classmates as being boisterous and noisy; in fact his acquaintances and intimate friends were a bit limited. However he did represent the typical high school student, in that he was right in there plugging along all the time. The business world will see more of Edward in future years as he plans to go to Business School next year.

Best of luck Edward, from 1940.

WILLIAM FAIRBANKS

General Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma.

"Not that I loved study less,
But that I loved leisure more."

Bill was what might be described as an "Enigma," and in case you're wondering what that is, it's something that is very difficult to explain. One of the smallest boys in the class, he nevertheless was one of the most sophisticated. Studies to him were as important as a fifth wheel on an automobile. During our last year with him, we discovered him burdened down with the weight of two (2) subjects while the rest of us were struggling with five or six.

"Take it easy" was Bill's motto and maybe he had the right idea — but just in case, 1940 wishes him success in whatever field he selects in his life work.

JAMES FARRAGHER

College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma.

"A merry heart is worth a pound of sorrow."

James, another prominent member of the "Fire Station Gang," could never be accused of over-concentrating on study. To him studying was something that could be put off indefinitely. However, when report cards were handed out, he always managed to display one which was marked with a minimum of red ink.

What James plans for the future is a bit indefinite at present, but whatever path he chooses, he carries along with him the best wishes of his classmates in 1940.

MARY ELLEN FERGUSON

College Course

Vice President-4, French Club, History Circle, Historical Society, Junior Prom Committee, D. A. R. Good Citizen, Photography Club.

"A girl of many talents, popular with all."

Who was it that said, "Beauty and brains cannot be combined." Well, Ferg is certainly an exception to the rule, for besides being one of the most attractive girls in our class, she is one of the students gifted with scholastic ability.

Mary was the lucky girl chosen as the representative of our school to attend the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held in Boston.

Ferg plans to further her studies at Simmons, and we know that whatever she chooses for her life's work, she will succeed. Best of luck from '40, Mary!

BETTY FITCH

College Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Friendship shone in her eye."

When the Class of 1940 points out its pride and joy it certainly can't afford to miss Betty.

Betty has gained many friends in C.H.S., and her spirit of friendliness is well known to all. Her smile just seems to invite friends, and she possesses the charm to perpetuate them.

She has not revealed to us her future ambition but girls with dispositions like Betty's invariably make a success of life. Good luck, Betty, from dear old '40.

ROBERT JAMES FLYNN

Commercial Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Prom Committee, Photography Club.

"I am the master of my fate."

A pleasant disposition, charming personality, and spontaneous wit, have made Robert one of the most popular boys in the senior class. He takes an active part in school activities and helps towards their class.

Robert plans to further his studies at Worcester Trade. Here's to success, Bob, from 1940.

CONCORDIA FREY

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"For she was just the quiet kind,
Whose nature never varies."

Concordia's charm lies in her quiet and reticent outlook toward life. Though retiring in manner, Concordia has lent her earnest support to all our class activities.

Concordia proves true the old maxim, "Silence is Golden" for this attitude has won for her the inestimable value of many friends.

Although she doesn't partake in sports, nevertheless, she may always be seen at every social function.

Best of luck Concordia from the class of '40.

VIRGINIA MARGARET FLYNN

Commercial Course

Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee, History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Class Book Staff.

"When night hath set her lamp on high,
That is the time for study."

Virginia has gained many friends since her freshman year. At first glance she may appear to be quiet and reserved, but she is full of pep and fun; and also a great football fan, more than willing to do her bit in cheering the home team on to victory.

"Ginny" is one of our high ranking students and though her studies take up much of her time, she still manages to take an active interest in all school activities.

LUCY MARY FORGIONE

General Course

History Circle, Thanksgiving Show, Photography Club.

Lucy otherwise known as "Lou" is one of the most popular and talented members of the Senior Class.

Lou has attained much popularity because of her participation in the Thanksgiving Shows where she has appeared as a soloist.

Lucy is very rarely seen alone, for wherever she is found you will be sure to see the "Burditt Hill Gang."

Lucy intends to be a Beautician. The best of luck from the Class of "40."

DAVID GALLAGHER

Commercial Course

Class Book Staff, Tau Sigma, History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Photography Club.

"Speech is great, silence is greater."

Dave Gallagher comes from the Greeley Hill section of Clinton. Although he did not participate in any High School sport, Dave can always be found among the supporters of the basketball and football teams.

Dave is a member of the Tau Sigma, the History Circle, and of the Shorthand Circle. He is also a member of the Class Book Staff. To become a stenographer is Dave's ambition.

PETER GAROFOLI

College Course

Tau Sigma, Soph Jr.Sr. Treasurer, History Circle, Photography Club, Jr. Prom Committee, Student Council, Literary Club.

"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men."

Peter gained distinction by serving as class treasurer for three years and although he took home his heavy books for paper weights and not for extensive studying, he managed to get his name in the Item every quarter. His genial and honest nature made him well liked by the members of his class both masculine and feminine. Although "Pete" has disclosed no plans for the future, it is hinted he wants to don the ecclesiastical robes. Here's wishing you luck "Pete" and the class of 1940 extends their best wishes.

RUBY GARRISON

College Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Literary Club.

"My inflection comes straight from the South."

The ever-present hospitality of the South is readily found in Ruby, for she comes from Alabama.

In the year that she has been with us, "Scrubby" has made many lasting friendships because of her natural charm plus good humor. She is very fond of swimming and can always be found at one of our local beaches in the summer. She is also one of our most brilliant students, and has a paid-up subscription to the testimonial list.

We all feel sure that Ruby has a prosperous, happy future in whatever field she enters.

MADELINE GAUGHAN

General Course

Photography Club.

"Much wit beneath a quiet surface."

Upon first appearance, Madeline seems to be a quiet demure girl, but those who know her testify differently. Maddie is quite a favorite among her classmates and friends.

She says little, but usually appreciates a joke, and has a pleasant smile for everybody.

Although she has not definitely made up her mind as to her future career, the Class of '40 wishes her the best of luck in her chosen profession.

PHYLLIS GEBHARDT

Commercial Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle.

"A quiet girl, and most demure."

Phyllis' winning smile and sunny disposition have made her one of the most likeable girls in our class. Whenever a helping hand is needed, Phyllis is always ready to give her aid. Her sense of humor never misses the funny side of anything, and she has brightened many dull moments for her friends with her cheerfulness.

Although much of her time is taken up with studies, she still manages to take an active interest in school activities.

As yet Phyllis' plans for the future are incomplete, but whatever field she enters, she has the best wishes of the Class of 1940.

WILLIAM GENTILE

General Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma.

"Silence is blissful."

William, one of the smaller members of our class, joined us rather late in our senior year.

He never could be described as noisy or boisterous, but he did manage to have plenty to say when called upon for recitation.

Bill's plans for the future are a bit uncertain, but whatever he does he has the best wishes of the class of 1940.

MARGARET MARY GIBBONS

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Shorthand Circle, Jr. Prom Committee

"A good heart is worth gold."

A friend indeed to each and every classmate in need. Peg is recognized by all as one of the liveliest and best natured girls in our class.

"Peg" appears to be very quiet and conservative, but to those who really know her she is full of fun.

She is somewhat of a reader, and uses her imagination freely. She is an industrious student eager to accomplish much, and sure to prosper because of her honesty and ability.

MARGUERITE GIBBONS

Normal Course

Photography Club, History Circle, Junior Prom Committee.

"I keep my nonsense for the fireplace.
Not publish it from the hilltops."

Marge is one of our girls who certainly needs no introduction, for she is recognized by all as being possessed with a winning personality.

Marge intends to become a nurse and we can assuredly say that she possesses all the necessary qualifications for this vocation.

MARGARET MARY GILL

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee.

We are certainly happy to make room on this page for "Gilly," a happy go lucky and carefree girl, full of pep, vim, and vigor.

Whether it is in the corridors or on the street, you'll always find "Gilly" shows that she is thoroughly content with life by her hearty laugh; nor does she laugh alone, for her smile is contagious and causes everybody to be happy.

Margaret is an ardent football fan and could always be seen at all games rooting lustily for the Clinton team.

HELEN GIOKA

Commercial Course

Shorthand Circle, History Circle, Photography Club.

"Silence is Golden."

"Lel" is the typewriting wizard of our class. She is a true and loyal pal at all times and is always eager to lend a helping hand whenever needed.

Lessons never seemed to bother Lel much but she always managed to get her share of testimonials each quarter.

She is seldom to be found at home either winter or summer having a yen for all out door sports, especially ice skating and swimming.

As yet Helen has not made any plans for the future but whatever she chooses, we all know she will succeed.

JOHN THOMAS GRADY

College Course

President, 2 3, Tau Sigma, History Circle, Historical Society — Honorary Member, Junior Prom Committee, Class Book Staff, Editor-in-Chief.

"A diligent student, not without result."

John possesses a diversity of talent which is seldom condensed into an individual. He has added amusement in the pleasant game of living and has a gift for generous comradeship which made him one of the best liked as well as best known members of the class. Emanating a spirit of "Bon Homme," he has garnerated four years of success on the high honor roll.

We want John to remember that these are the unanimous sentiments of his class, and we hail in you a brilliant editor, an excellent scholar, the best friend of — The Class of 1940.

DOROTHY GUENTHER

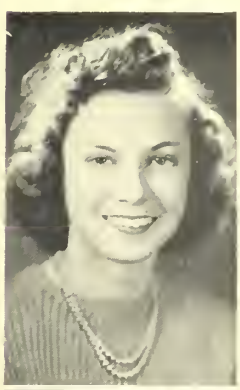
College Course

Photography, History Circle, Basketball.

"A true friend, a rich asset."

More interested in sports than social events, Dot has played a good part on our girls' basketball team. With her quiet pleasing personality she has made many friends among her classmates and teachers. Spending more of her freshman recesses in the Lecture room, she still found time to enjoy school life.

"Dot" has chosen nursing as her profession, and with her go the best wishes for success from the class of '40.



ELIZABETH L. GUTMAN

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath."

Betty has won the hearts of all those who know her by her gay laughter and good nature. She attended most of the school functions and took active interest in all school affairs. Betty's future is undecided but whatever pathway she picks, we know it will suit her. Class of '40 sure wishes you the best of success.

MARGUERITE HALLINAN

Normal Course

Photography Club.

"Her sweetness I never knew,
Until she smiled on me."

Marguerite is one of the most carefree girls of the Senior Class. Every recess a group of girls can be seen gathered around her desk talking over the preceding night's happenings.

Marguerite plans to be a nurse, and with her ability and charming personality is bound to succeed. We wish her the best of luck.

CHARLOTTE HANNEY

Commercial Course

History Circle, Class Book Staff, Shorthand Circle, Photography Club.

"Diligence brings its own reward."

Here we have one of the intelligent and cheerful members of our class. She has a quiet but lovable disposition which both her classmates and teachers admire. Although Charlotte belongs to many clubs, she always finds time to lend a helping hand to all. She takes a great interest in all school activities and always contributes to their success.

Charlotte plans to enter a business school and we know that she will succeed. She wants to become a secretary and she is now nearing that goal.

Lots of luck from the class of '40, Charlotte.

MARY HANNIFIN

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

"Second thoughts are best."

Mary is a girl of winning ways and manners. Because of her "can't help but notice" red hair and blue eyes, she easily attracts the opposite sex. She is light-hearted and care-free and when there is any fun to be had, you can find Mary right in the midst of it. Once Mary's mind is made up, persuasion and arguments are useless, and she will carry out her ideas regardless of consequences.

We wish Mary success in whatever she selects as her life work.

JOHN HAROIAN

Technical Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Photography Club.

"Life is real, life is earnest."

Forbearing in his love and pursuit of aeronautics enough to give time to his classwork, we see with what resulting excellence this time was used. The mathematics class was his citadel where he proved himself a geometrician and trigonometrician worthy to have a place in that part of Elysian fields reserved for the Newtons', Laplaces' and the like. Affix to the above qualities an acute sense of humor, a conversational ability rarely surpassed, and your word picture which you take with you of "Johnny," is complete.

CHESTER HEWITT HARVEY

College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Photography Club.

"I c well the God given hours."

"Chet" is exceedingly popular among all members of the class. He is the outdoor type, often to be found strolling through the woods with a gun or fishing pole. Although found outdoors a great deal, he still manages to find time to study and acquire good marks in class.

"Chet" is not altogether a quiet chap, nor yet is he too loud. He is a real good fellow, sincere, and a faithful friend.

Interested in Aeronautics, he plans to attend some school dealing with this. We all wish "Chet" good luck and know he will succeed.

EDITH HAYES

Normal Course

History Circle

Prominent member of the senior class, Edith intends to go to Nanson college where she will study to be a dietician. She is popular with her classmates and does her share in the class activities, so that we were very glad to have her as a member of our class. While she prefers history, and the history circle, her studies mark her as a monument of steady devotion. We wish her the best of luck at Nanson college.

MARTHA LILLIAN HASTINGS

Commercial Course

Jr. Prom Committee, Shorthand Circle, Honorary Member of Clinton Historical Society, History Circle, Photography Club.

"I take no note of time."

Martha is one of the prettiest girls in our class; wears very beautiful clothes, is an honor student, and is well liked by everyone from freshman to senior.

She is very popular with everyone and at every dance she is usually "La Belle Populaire" and never has enough dances to please her many partners.

She has always stood in high regard with her teachers, being very quiet and reserved when she is in their classes.

MARIE HEINOLD

College Course

History Circle, Basketball 2, 3, 4, Photography Club.

"Politeness is to do and say
The kindest thing in the kindest way."

Twinkling eyes, plus a merry laugh, equals a little girl from Chace Street who has just passed another joke along the aisle, and if anyone happened to be present in any of her classes, especially chemistry, he will always be able to share in memory, her pleasant spirit.

Her outside time is much taken up with sports, and she was one of the main performers in the Senior Basketball squad.

Marie has made up her mind to become a lady-in-White!

So good luck, Marie, from the Class of '40.

HOWARD JOHN HIENOLD

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

"I have no ambition greater than to be esteemed by my fellow men."

Although not one of our testimonial pupils, Howard has always managed to get by with room to spare. He is a lover of the outdoors, and may be seen in the vicinity of any good trout stream on an early spring morning. Although not a member of any of our athletic squads, Howard makes a point of attending most of our sporting events. A popular boy with a good personality, that's Howard. He is very much interested in aeronautics and plans to further his education at some prominent aeronautical school. Good luck to you, Howard, and happy landings.

ETHEL CLAIRE HESTER

Commercial Course

Inter-class Dramatics 1, Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4, Thanksgiving Show 3, 4, Senior Show, Shorthand Circle, History Circle, Class Book Staff, Junior Prom Committee.

"Her loveliness you never know Until you hear her sing."

Ethel's infectious giggle was her identifying mark. Her merry laughter and sparkling good humor endeared her to the hearts of her classmates and she was always more than welcome in any group activity.

As a result of her ability to convey her personality to others she was given roles in several plays where she has proved her dramatic talent. Dramatic talent is not her only art for Ethel possesses a very fine singing voice.

EDMUND HILDEBRANDT

Commercial Course

Photography Club.

"Small but noticeable."

Edmund can easily be recognized by anyone in any part of the town because of his small stature. Being a lover of modern dancing he frequents Turner Hall as much as possible to show evidence of the art which he has mastered. Another of his hobbies is bowling and although he declares he is quite good at it some of his friends are inclined to disagree. Having a distinctive way about him he need not worry about the future.

ELEANOR GREER HUDSON

College Course

History Circle, Camera Club 3, Photography Club.

"Good things come in little packages."

Bill is one of the best examples of the saying, "good things come in small packages." She has a winning personality that delights everyone. She is a great little scout with a charming wit that endeared her to all.

Elly has appeared to all school functions, both sports and social affairs. Bill looks forward to becoming a nurse and hopes to go in training this fall. We are sure that she will make a fine nurse because of her winning disposition. The Class of '40 wishes her many years of success.

ELEANOR DOROTHY IACOBUCCI

Normal Course

History Circle, Class Book Staff, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee.

"A maiden, never bold,
A spirit still and quiet."

Eleanor was one of the brightest U. S. History pupils and anyone who glanced at the testimonial list would not have failed to see many testies credited to her name.

"Ellie" is a tall dark haired girl who has a sunny disposition and a cheery smile for everyone. She is fond of all outdoor sports and may be seen at Coachlace Pond in summer or winter.

"Ellie" plans to don the uniform of a nurse and we have no doubt that she will soothe many a patient to recovery.

LENA INNAMORATI

College Course

Jr. Prom Committee, Photography Club, History Circle.

"Wearing her wisdom lightly."

Lena is one girl whom everyone admires because of her sportsmanship. "Speed" is always seen at high school dances and she never misses a football game, sports being her main interest. She takes part in all of them; excelling in ping pong, tennis, and taking candid camera shots.

No matter what Lena is doing, she always aims high and manages to reach her goal. Her plans for the future are high too, for she wants to be a doctor.

Well, Lena, it's going to be hard work but we know that you will succeed.

IDA INNAMORATI

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

"She's little but she's wise,
She's a terror for her size."

A giggle, a smile, and a twinkle of the eye means none other than Idie who is one of the fairest maids of the class.

Ida is an all-around good sport and is seen at all High School functions accompanied by her ever faithful "coz" Lena, rooting for the home team.

The song "Ida Sweet as Apple Cider" must certainly have been written for this little miss, for it describes her fully. She spends much of her time studying and always manages to get good marks.

JOSEPH JAROS

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, Photography Club.

"Not on the height, but climbing."

Joe hails from Lowell, and although he does not burn the midnight oil, he manages to get marks well above passing. Joe is one of the quieter boys, and one who gets along very well with everyone.

He would rather play on his harmonica, than study.

With the training he received clerking at the First National, Joe will have gathered sufficient experience to be a success in the business world — and that's what 1940 is wishing for.

MARY MARGARET JENNINGS

Commercial Course

French Club, History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee.

"Modesty is a shaft to the soul."

A merry smile, a pleasing way, a twinkle of her eye — no other introduction is needed, for we now undoubtedly know this is Mary.

"Happy and carefree all the while" is Mary's aim in life, and she is very near her goal, for one just can't feel blue in her company. This is the reason why Mary has acquired so many ready friends while at C.H.S.

As a loyal supporter of school activities she proved herself a worthy member, for she eagerly looked forward to all events with enthusiasm and anticipation.

GEORGE KAMATARIS

General Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Jr. Prom Committee, Football 4.

"Timeo Danaos et dona ferentis." These hallowed words would be changed to convey a far less ominous mental suggestion had Laocoon been alive today and met this chap whose name the class of 1940 has been lucky enough to number in its ranks.

His gifts stamp him as an athlete ne plus ultra, a social lion with the ability to win lasting friendships, and a well-balanced scholar.

To wish him success would be partially superfluous, since true success will be merely the manifestation of his zenith — piercing abilities.

ANGELINE KARTALOS

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Shorthand Circle, Class Book Staff.

"May knowledge increase."

Angie is one of the more quiet and reserved members of our class. Her conscientious manner toward her studies places her among the more brilliant students.

Her businesslike attitude will prove an advantage to her as we know she will be a valuable asset to some office.

The class of '40 wishes her constant success in her future vocation.

AUSTIN PAUL KELLEY

General Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle.

Austin, one of the quieter boys of the High School, is always ready to give a helping hand whenever needed. Although not taking part in any athletics, he has always been a hearty enthusiast of all High School events.

He is a graduate of Holy Rosary School and is affiliated with the Scouts and Study Club of the same parish.

Although his plans for the future are not certain we all feel that he will go a long way in his chosen field.

JOSEPH FRANCIS KILCOYNE

College Course

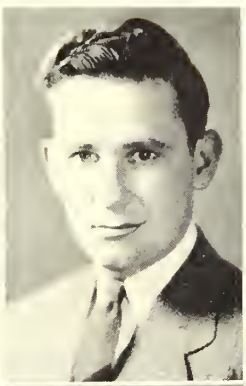
Tau Sigma, History Circle, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee, Senior Show Committee.

"Better to do the world's idlest work,
Than to be idle always."

"Joe" is one of the rare combinations of an athlete and a good student. Joe obtained good marks while at Clinton High School, and received his share of testimonials each quarter.

He is a loyal supporter of all High School games and may be seen at all our social functions.

His sportsmanship, cheerfulness, and willingness to help, have made him a much sought after friend. We predict a bright and successful future for you, Joe, whatever your endeavor.



THOMAS HENRY KILCOYNE

Commercial Course

History Circle, Jr. Prom Committee, Photography Club, Tau Sigma, Inter-Class Baseball 1-2.

"Boys will be boys."

Take about two parts intelligence, one part humor, sprinkle with a likeable personality, and we have Tom Kilcoyne, the Strand's foremost usher. His wit and humor may be readily seen by the quips that he tosses around going through the corridors of C.H.S.

Books never bother Tom, and the contents less; but still he must have done some studying on the sly for he seemed to pull through without too many fancy red marks.

His pleasing personality made him well liked by members of the faculty and both sexes of his class.

ELIZABETH CARTER KINNEAR

College Course

French Club, History Circle, Historical Society, Jr. Prom Committee, Class Book Staff, Photography Club, Honorary Member of Clinton's Women's Club

"Sometimes grave and sometimes gay,
But we like her anyway."

Betty is one of our most prominent Senior girls. Possessing an extraordinary sense of humor, she often gets into trouble with her giggling. She is well liked by everyone because of her sportsmanship, her readiness to help anyone, and her friendliness.

Betty, although often seen going by in her car, always has her name in the testimonial list.

JOSEPH KULIS

Commercial Course

History Circle.

Joe could rightfully be recorded in the History of 1940 as one of the class sharks. Never has he been known to arrive in class unprepared. As a result, each quarter brought him his usual number of testimonials.

In order to dispell any impression that Joe was a "grind" let us say that he was far from it. Whenever the occasion demanded it he was right in the midst of whatever was going on.

Joe expects to follow a business course after graduation and will enter one of the better Commercial colleges. Best of luck from 1940, Joe.

LEAH KARMEN

College Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

"Happy am I, from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all content like me?"

"Lee" is an outdoor girl, particularly fond of skating.

She is undecided as yet as to what career she will choose, but we think that her sunny disposition and persevering nature will lead her to success. Best of luck, "Lee."

JULIA MARIE LAMB

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

"A flippant tongue is worth a pot of gold."

This "Lolla," one of our attractive blue-eyed senior girls. Of lassitude she has none and enjoys herself by dancing or skating. Lolla doesn't believe in wasting electricity over her homework but she manages to keep sailing. Her ambition is to excel in commercial art. Keep trying, Julia, for to quote Miss Thompson, "Success crowns effort."

JENNIE LAMBROS

Commercial Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Photography Club, Class Book Staff.

"Not simple conquest, Triumph is her aim."

In spite of the fact that Jennie did not take an active part in the social functions of the school, she managed to keep her popularity among her classmates.

Enthusiasm, cheerfulness, capability, are characteristics which describe Jennie to perfection. She has worked faithfully and diligently during her four years in High School, managing to appear on the testimonial list every quarter.

EVERETT LAMLEIN

General Course

Basketball 4, History Circle, Tau Sigma.

The pulsating rhythm of his dancing feet which, to the accompaniment of a Glenn Miller killer-diller, generated enough heat on Music Hall floor as Mrs. O'Leary's cow did in Chicago won "Evey" the distinction of the best dancer in the class.

"Evey" also gave enough time to schoolwork to win the admiration of his teachers and enough to athletics to win a position on the varsity basketball squad.

The best wishes of '40 go with you "Ev" into whatever field of endeavor you are entering.

GEORGE ANDREW LATINEN

Technical Course

Treasurer of History Circle, Baseball 2, History Society, Class Book Staff.

"My books are my friends."

The Class of '40's nearest claim to a combination of physical and mental perfection takes shape in the form of this handsome, fair-haired chap, under whose veil of tranquillity we find an intensely human friend. His is a physique perfected by long hours of diversified forms of calisthenics, his is an intellectuality perfected by constant devotion to his schoolwork, and his is a personal charm perfected by an interesting conversational ability and contagious sense of humor.

JOHN LAVELLE

General Course

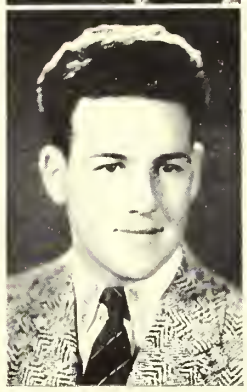
Photography Club, Football IV.

"Variety is the spice of life."

Jack is one of the happiest-go-lucky fellows in our class. He is one of those boys who manage to do something well, with but little effort.

We remember him best for the athletic ability he demonstrated on the Varsity Football Team during his senior year.

Jack is undecided as to what he will do in the future but he carries the best wishes of the class of 1940 with him.



WILLARD CARTER LEARNED

College Course

Tau Sigma, Football, 1, 2, 3, 4, Football Captain, 4, Baseball 2, 3, 4, Basketball 2, 3, Junior Marshall.

"A lion among ladies is a dangerous thing."

Behold Willard (a few people call him "Bud") captain of Clinton High's Midland League champion football team. His was a relentless, irresistible, energy that he more than plainly demonstrated to the hundreds of spectators who watched him, by sheer force of spirit smash his way to statewide honors on the gridiron. The baseball team also received its share of this dynamic personality whose stellar play warranted him such success in varsity participation. But even apart from sports, his character abounded with steadiness and the ability to get things done satisfactorily.

CLARA LEONI

Commercial Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle.

"She lives long, who lives well."

Here we have one of the more friendly members of the Senior Class. Clara can always be counted on to have a pleasant word or smile for everyone. She takes great interest in all school activities and yet does not neglect her studies, as her grades prove.

Clara hopes to be a private secretary and with her kind and willing disposition we are sure she will reach her goal.

LORRAINE WINIFRED LEEDHAM

General Course

History Circle, Literary Club, Class Book Staff, Photography Club.

Lorraine's ambition is to be the Torchy Blane of our class. She will succeed in this because of her ability to condense everything down to a minimum. She has an appealing sense of humor which makes her liked by everyone. No one can forget "Ducky's" attractive looks and winning smile.

The entire Class of '40 is backing Lorraine in her chosen profession of newspaper reporting and wishes her success through all.

HAZEL LOEWINDORFF

Commercial Course

Literary Club, History Circle, Photography Club, Class Book Staff, Orchestra.

"Still waters run deep."

The hands of the clock go around its face a mile a minute and at each strike of the clock something new has been accomplished by Hazel. She has a fondness for making designs on the typewriter and pounds away on it until she brings forth a very successful piece of work. When she is in the mood she will take her writing tools and jot down a very interesting story. Hazel has the ability to do a great many things but though she is very good in them all, she has no idea of using any of them for her future.

FRED LUEDER

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Photography Club.

"Disturb not that which is quiet."

Known to his many friends as "Freddie" he has won his place as regular fellow among the members of his class through his sunny disposition and agreeable nature. During his four years with us we have found him to be a loyal supporter of all school activities and always ready to do his part when called upon. He is a quiet, hard-working fellow who gets pleasure out of doing his work well. "Freddie" is a lover of all sports.

He says that he has no definite plans for the future as yet. In whatever field of work he enters we know he will succeed, and whatever it is, he carries with him the best wishes of the Class of '40.

PAUL JOSEPH LYNSKEY

College Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Photography Club, Orchestra.

"Safe in the arms of Morpheus."

Paul is one of our most talented boys. His pianistic abilities carried him into the fields of both swing and classic music.

Paul's schoolwork never suffered from his adaptability to music, as he always showed himself to be a good student.

We must here bid goodbye to Paul with best wishes for his future success from the class of '40.

DORIS MAHAN

Commercial Course

Shorthand Circle, Cheerleader '39, Photography Club.

"Some think the world is made for fun and frolic,
And so do I."

"Dot" our vigorous, merry cheerleader is one of our most ardent dancing enthusiasts, seldom missing an opportunity to "strut her stuff."

She is a faithful supporter of all sports especially basketball and football games and could always be counted on for a hearty cheer. We hope that a bright and happy future will be yours, "Dot."

MARGARET MAHAN

General Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

Now we come to Margaret with her big blue eyes, and great personality. She is another one of those girls, who can always be found in a roller skating rink or in the movies. She spends a great deal of her time there, especially when "Mickey Rooney" is starred.

Margaret appears to be such a quiet girl, but don't let that fool you, she can be classed as many others are, a "Chatterbox." She is well acquainted with the pupils around her, and also in the other classes. Margaret intends to be a hairdresser and with her determination, and ability we know she will succeed.

The Class of '40 extends their best wishes to you, Margaret.

ANNA FRANCES MARINELLI

Commercial Course

Photography Club, Shorthand Circle, History Circle.

"It's nice to be natural,
When you're naturally nice."

"Penny" goes from room to room every "B" period with a notice. We have often wondered why she was so particular about Rm. 1, but that is something only Adela can explain.

Anna and Adela have been together in every class for three years, a record of which they are proud.

She has not yet decided what her career will be, but the best of luck, "Penny," from your classmates of 1940.

IDA MARY MASCIARELLI

General Course

Junior Prom Committee, History Circle, Photography Club, Class Book Staff.

"Who says little has little to answer for."

Ida cannot been seen without her many friends from Burditt Hill. All those who know her agree that she is a gay, entertaining companion and appreciate her fine sense of humor.

Ida enters whole-heartedly into all social or outdoor activities but this does not distract her from her scholastic duties.

Ida is undecided as to what her future will be but in whatever career she chooses we know she will be a success. Good luck from '40, Ida.

ROBERT PATERSON MAYBERRY

College Course

Football 1, 2, 3, 4, Tau Sigma, History Circle, Photography Club.

"He proved himself a man."

Bob, one of our best athletes, was a stellar guard on the football team during his stay at C. H. S. He gained considerable recognition because of his skill in this sport.

His gymnastic capabilities manifested themselves at Turner Gymnasium where he worked long hours in perfecting his physique.

A true pal and friend, we wish Bob every success in his future endeavors.

FRANCES C. MC DONALD

College Course

Tau Sigma, Senior Football Club, Photography Club, History Circle, Mgr. Football 4.

"His heart is in his voice."

Although not an athlete "Mac" was Manager of the football team in his Senior year. "Mac" is rated as one of the better male singers in Clinton. He has appeared in many musicals in the Town Hall as well as performing out of town very often. Between driving a taxi for his father and ushering in the Strand, "Mac" hasn't much time to study, but he gets along very well. As yet he hasn't told us what he intends to do after graduation, but whatever he does the class of 1940 wishes him all the luck in the world.

GEORGE MC GOWN

Technical Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma.

"The better known,
The better is his worth appreciated."

Though short in stature George overbalances this by reaching a height in the measurements of scholastic ability, and all around good fellowship.

He pursued the Technical Course in High School and plans to continue his studies in that field in which we know he will meet with nothing but success.

MARY ALICE McGOWN

Commercial Course

Shorthand Circle, History Circle, Photography Club, Prom Committee, Class Book Staff

"My mind to me a kingdom is."

Mary McGown by her winning smile and charming personality has gained many friends among undergraduates as well as her own class. She has all the qualities necessary to find success as a stenographer. Her ability to make the hardest subject seem mere routine puzzles her classmates. Her name has been in the testimonial column with general excellence more than Roosevelt's has been mentioned with Third Term. Take this suitcase full of happiness from the class of '40 with you on your journey, Mary.

KATHLEEN MARY MC NALLY

Commercial Course

History Circle, Prom Com., Photography Club, Shorthand Circle.

"A good name will wear out,
But a nickname lasts forever."

Kathleen is that pleasant girl whom we all admire. You can't help but like Kacky upon first meeting her as she is friendly and gay. As an ardent sports fan she attends all school games. Kacky has numerous friends because of her interest in school affairs and her pleasing personality. She plans to enter business school and eventually become a stenographer. We all know that Kacky will succeed in anything she undertakes. So in parting we wish her the best of luck from the Class of '40.

FRANK MC NAMARA

College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Class Book Staff, Photography Club.

"Better to wear out, than rush out."

If silence is golden this fellow is rich. He goes about his studies in a very quiet fashion, but the testimonial list usually shows his name. He has the valued quality of concentration. This quality, we are sure, will insure his future success in whatever line of endeavor he may choose. His plans are uncertain but we bid him "Good bye" and "The best of luck" — by the Class of '40.

LEON MC NAMARA

Commercial Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma.

"He was fond of amusement, too."

Everyone knows "Frez" one of our youngest senior boys. We remember when Leo was just a bashful freshman, but times have changed as has "Frez" and we now have a "sophisticate senior." He has never acquired any testimonials during his High School career, but is well up in his studies. While Leo hasn't decided what his plans for the future are, we know he will succeed in anything he undertakes. The Class of 1940 wishes him the best of luck.

RAYMOND J. MC NAMARA

Commercial Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Varsity Football 2, 3, 4, Varsity Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4, Varsity Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4, Photography Club.

"What care I for books?"

A smiling red head with a wealth of personality. A three letter man in athletics and a "thespian" of no mean ability. He is a regular member of the Lecture Room at recess. He has a hearty greeting for one and all — from humble freshmen to high and mighty seniors.

Ray, the walking, talking, living example of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." If anyone succeeds in this world from the Class of '40, Raymie is the one, his remarkable ability to keep everyone happy will pull him through.

JOHN J. MERRIMAN

General Course

Tau Sigma, Sr. Football Club, History Circle, Varsity Football 3-4, Photography Club.

"He'll find a way."

John is one of the fine athletes of our class. He is exceptionally good in football, and with his skillfull playing, he helped us to win the Midland Championship.

Although he devotes a great deal of his time to sports, he still receives good marks in his classes. Though quiet in manner, he attends all the social functions of the class.

If he continues to work as hard in his future career, as he has in sports, the Class of '40 knows he will succeed.

ROBERTA MIEHLKE

College Course

History Circle, Prom Committee, Class Book Staff, Inter-Class Dramatics 1, 2, Thanksgiving Show 2, Cheerleader 3, 4.

"Either I will find a way, or I will make one."

Roberta decidedly needs no introduction as she is known by everyone. Many a weary heart of our eleven was raised on to greater heights by Bobbie's lusty and encouraging bursts of cheers while a cheer leader.

"Bobby" has especially shown her dramatic ability by acting in almost every show in which the Seniors have starred. She is a good supporter of all school functions. With all the things she has to keep her busy, she manages to rate high in her studies.

HILDA MILLS

General Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Calm as the night."

This wee lass has impressed both her teachers and fellow-classmates with her studiousness and dependable nature. Intimate friends value her as a jovial companion, for such a carefree comrade is indeed rare.

Although Hilda has commuted from West Berlin, she has attended C. H. S. with amazing punctuality and regularity.

It is with sincere hope that the World gives of its best to Hilda, that we part from a true pal.

JAMES MITCHELL

Commercial Course

Senior show, Senior inter-class, History Circle, Tau Sigma, Photography Club, Football 3, 4.

Here we have the "Don Juan" of our class. Jimmie has shown talents in dramatic fields playing a major role in our class plays. The summer finds him an aquatic enthusiast and a recognized Senior life-guard. "Mitch" is a lady-killer and is usually the cynosure of feminine eyes. Jimmie plans to enter Holy Cross next year and with his ability and talent we know he will succeed.

BETTY MONROE

College Course

French Circle, History Circle, Class Book Staff, Prom Committee, Photography Club, Student Council.

"And still they gazed, and still they wondered,
How one small head could carry all she knew."

Betty is one of the quiet, intellectual girls of our High School. She has been on the testimonial lists for four years, thus proving her ability in scholastic work. She is one of the most attractive girls in the Senior Class, and is always very smartly dressed. The source of much wonder about her is her hair. How does she manage to keep it so beautifully set?

She has many friends among the girls as well as boys and was elected Secretary of the History Circle as a proof of her popularity.

MARY ALICE MORAN

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

Mary is one of the quietest members of the Senior Class. Her pleasant disposition has won her many friends during her high school years. She is always ready to lend a helping hand to her classmates.
"Marie" is undecided about her future but in whatever she chooses to do we wish her success.

THERESA MORAN

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Happy-go-lucky, from care I'm free,
There's nothing at all that worries me."

Theresa's pleasant smile and good nature have won her many friends among her class-mates. She is interested in sports, and can always be found rooting for Clinton's team at the games.
Her favorite pastime is roller skating, at which she is very accomplished. Theresa's plans for the future are indefinite, but she has our best wishes for continued success.

MARTHA MUNTER

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Class Book Staff, Literary Club.

"Go, get me hither paper, pen and ink."

Naturally quiet and good natured, willing to help, delightful to know, great ability as an author, orator, and poetess — that's Martha or "Marty" one of the most intelligent girls in our Senior Class.
But don't get the idea that she is always studying, just because her name constantly appears on the testimonial list, far from it.
Marty is a staunch supporter of every class or social activity and seems to find a little time for each.
Marty has hopes of becoming a private secretary, and we all know, with her charming personality, she cannot help but succeed.

BARBARA MURDY

College Course

History Circle, Thanksgiving Show 3, Photography Club.

"Always ready,
Always there,
Always ready to do her share."

A grand sense of humor, a carefree manner, and a willingness to help others, have won for Barbara an enviable circle of true friends. Although she never borrowed time from her social activities to concentrate on studies, Barbara proved to be one of our most dependable students. She was always eager to better herself and never refused to lend a helping hand to others.
Farewell, Barbara! The good wishes of your class attend your future career.

SOPHIE BARBARA NICHOLAS

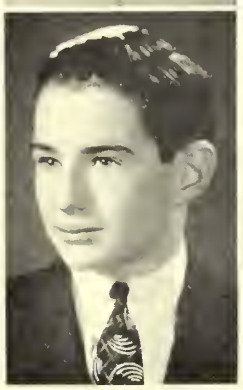
Commercial Course

History Circle, Class Book Staff, Inter-Class Dramatics 1, 2, Senior Show, Thanksgiving Revue 1, 2, 3, 4, Shorthand Circle, Soph. Class Secretary, Photography Club.

"There's rhythm in her dancing feet."

Sophie, known to everyone as "Bobby," is one of the outstanding personalities of the Class of 1940. Average height, brown hair and hazel eyes, high intelligent forehead, full red lips, pepsodent smile, and a nose with an attraction all its own, for it has a slight tendency to turn up.

As her list of achievements proves, Bobby is definitely talented, and has well represented her class in musical and dramatic shows.



CHARLES JAMES NOLAN

College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, President; Junior Marshall, Jr. Prom Committee, Baseball 3-4.

"Jest and youthful jollity."

Charles, better known to his fellow students as "Chalk" is one person that has personality plus. He brings a chuckle into any sort of conversation, and he's never at a loss for a conversation. He is never without an idea, for they just come to him without his overtaxing his mind. Another good point in Chalk's character is his continual good spirit. There is a certain thing called a mood, and the trouble is that too many of us have bad ones on some occasions. But not Chalk. Best of luck from 1940.

ADELA JEANNETTE NOVAK

Commercial Course

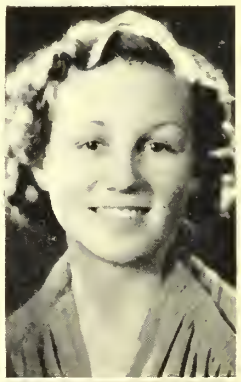
Photography Club, Shorthand Circle, History Circle.

"Her eyes were blue, and very bright."

Adela is one of the most attractive girls in our class. She has won many friends with her pleasant personality and winning smile. She was seen at many of the social functions and contributed toward their success.

Adela was a faithful worker in school and proved her industriousness by having her name appear frequently on the testimonial list.

Best wishes in whatever you choose to do from the Class of '40.



AGNES GERTRUDE O'DAY

Normal Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Silence personified."

No one was even disturbed by Agnes's chatter, but she is known to all of us and is well liked — perhaps because she never causes anyone trouble or discomfort. Her willingness to help and her ready smile make her a friend to all.

Vocations are surely hard to choose, but when a girl like "Aggie" chooses one, it's sure to be the best for her. She intends to put her talents into the teaching world. Wherever you go, Agnes, you can be certain that the Class of '40 wishes you good luck, success, and happiness.

JAMES O'DONNELL

College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Photography Club, Students' Council, Junior Marshall, Junior Prom Committee, Senior Show Committee, Class Book Staff.

"Ah, pensive scholar, what is fame?"

Jimmy was an apt and capable student in C. H. S. and because of his phenomenal power at grasping subjects he stood as an example for the younger students. He is seldom missing from any of our social activities, but nevertheless, he manages to hold his testimonial rank. He has never spread much college propaganda around, but from an authoritative source it is hinted that he shall further his studies at Tufts and become a doctor.

RAYMOND O'MALLEY

General Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Interclass Dramatics, Football.

Ray was a valuable member of 1940 in more ways than one. His fine record as a member of the Varsity Football team made him one of Coach McCaffrey's most valuable men.

On the stage as well as the gridiron Ray proved his ability as those who saw him in Interclass shows will testify.

On the social side, — well it seemed no school function was complete unless Ray and a certain "somebody" were present. We are quite sure his debonair and somewhat blase attitude will stand him well in whatever work he chooses in later life.

WILLIAM O'MALLEY

College Course

Tau Sigma, Junior Prom Committee, History Circle, Photography Club.

"A man who sees above the crowd."

It would be difficult to find a better example of sheer friendship than "Willie." He is gifted with a warm smile which never stops to question who is on the receiving end, a sense of humor which totally lacks any elements of satire or harshness.

Things which might throw others into a rage leave "Willie" not only undisturbed but unresentful.

We bid a hesitant and a regretful farewell to him with the assurance that in the future, at all times and places his presence and personality will be just as welcome and as highly appreciated.

BARBARA CATHERINE O'TOOLE

Commercial Course

History Circle, Junior Prom Committee, Shorthand Circle.

"Her grace and charm one can't deny."

Cheerful, friendly, and a pleasant personality is a description of one of the most popular girls of the Senior Class, Barbara O'Toole.

Although to an outsider "Bard" appears to be very quiet, anyone that knows her can tell you differently.

Consistency is another of Barbara's qualities. She is consistently late; the tardy-bell seems to herald her approach. But she is consistent in other ways too. She attends all school activities and is a loyal rooter at all athletic events.

Barbara plans to enter Business College in the fall.

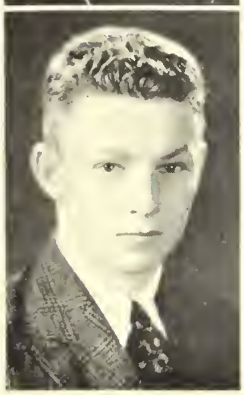
WALTER LAWRENCE O'TOOLE

College Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Fresh-Soph Baseball, Basketball 3, Varsity Football 4, Varsity Baseball 3-4, Photography Club.

"A quiet person, thoughtful, grave, sincere."

Walter is a good student, who is very willing to lend a helping hand to any student who has difficulties with his studies. Wally was a star outfielder on last year's and this year's baseball nines.
"Walt" also participated in basketball and football and did quite well. Holy Cross is his favorite college and Latin was his favorite subject while in High School. Walter is undecided where he will further his education, but it will likely be either at Holy Cross or Fordham University. We the Class of 1940 realize that he will succeed in College as well as he has while in High School.



WILLIAM O'TOOLE Jr.

Tau Sigma, Senior Football Club, History Circle, Varsity Football 4.

"Labor conquers all things."

Bill, a goodlooking product of Burditt Hill and one of the more intelligent members of the senior class.
In his steady-going quiet way he manages to get his share of testimonials. Although very busy with work outside of school, he managed to go out for the football team in his last year and made a very good showing. The Class of '40 knows he will succeed in whatever field he chooses and wishes him good luck.

PETER PAPPAS

College Course

Football 4, Basketball 3, 4, Tau Sigma, History Circle, Senior Football Club, Photography Club.

"What he does, he does well."

Tall, dark, and handsome, Peter is a typical high school boy, majoring in all sports. Participating in basketball, baseball, and football games, with a bit of "rug cutting" on the side, he has become one of those familiar and favorite faces that will be hard to forget.
Peter settles down in class and becomes quiet and attentive, doing his work with thoroughness and precision.
His outstanding gift in the field of art promises to bring him a position worthy of Rembrandt. Best of luck, Peter!

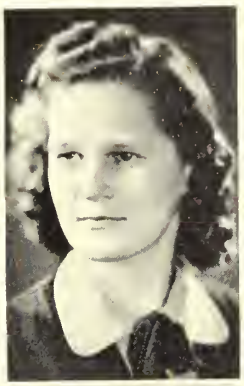
RITA PELLERIN

Commercial Course

History Circle, French Club, Photography Club.

"A big heart in a little person."

Although Rita is one of the smallest members of our class, she is one of the fairest and best dressed. Many times a first impression is wrong, and it certainly is in this instance, for when one knows her better, he discovers that instead of being quiet, Rita is full of fun, and every ready to "crack" a joke. She likes dancing and can always be seen enjoying herself at all the High School shows. Rita plans to go to Wilfred Academy in Boston, to study hairdressing, and from all appearances will be very successful. Best of luck to you from the Class of '40.



MARTHA PFLUGRADT

Commercial Course

Class Book Staff, Shorthand Circle, Basketball 2, 3, 4, Photography Club.

"A studious girl, but bright and gay."

Four and one-half minutes past eight and a blonde, attractive senior girl dashes up the stairs trying to get to her seat on time. She needs no introduction, for Martha is almost always racing the tardy bell.

"Marty" is one of our outdoor girls. She is an active member in sports and showed this by her ability on the Varsity Basketball team.

Sports aren't her only interest. She excelled in many of her subjects — carrying off her share of the testimonials.

STELLA PHILLIPS

General Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Let others have a quiet life."

This diminutive damsel is undoubtedly one of the best known and best liked girls in our Senior Class. Her charming personality and friendly nature are an accomplished fact and one would think it quite extraordinary if they passed her some morning and did not receive her bright "Hi, there." In spite of the fact that she is an ever-present member of all school activities both athletic and social, the ease with which she attains testimonials is the wonder of her classmates. Stella intends to become a hairdresser and we know that even without our best wishes she would be a success, nevertheless, still we offer them to her.

ALEXANDER POPIELARCZYK

General Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Photography Club.

"I would rather be right than be president."

Alex is one of the more quiet members of our class. During his four year stay at C. H. S. he was very popular with both the pupils and teachers. His vocabulary is something that his friends greatly admire. His work at this school has not been done in vain, and as we bid him farewell, we feel confident of his future success.

JAMES VINCENT PORCIELLO

General Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Football 2, 3, 4.

Dapper and debonair, the pleasing friendliness of this chap has won him a host of friends during his stay at Clinton High.

A mainstay of the football team, a friend in the true sense of the word and an all around good fellow, he leaves without any definite plans for the future, but we know that whatever he undertakes he will be a success.

WILLIAM EDWARD POWERS

Technical Course

Junior Prom Committee, Historical Society, Tau Sigma,
Class Book Staff, President of History Circle.

"Strange to the world, he wore a bashful look."

Quiet, soft spoken, studious and any number of adjectives may be used to describe the president of our History Circle, "Will" Powers.
Bill is one of the most intelligent members of our class, as may be seen by reading the testimonial list.
William is a great winter sports enthusiast, skiing and skating being his favorite pastimes.
Quiet and studious though he is, Will is still a regular fellow, and we all know that Clinton High's great loss will be W.P. I's greater gain.

JOSEPHINE ANNA PRADERIO

College Course

History Circle, French Club, Assistant Basketball Manager,
Class Book Staff, Photography Club, Jr. Prom Committee.

"I heard a sweet voice singing."

A good friend, an active student, and a big smile for everybody — that's Josephine.
She is seen almost every morning running down Burditt Hill hoping that Mr. Cobb will forget to ring the tardy bell for a few minutes, but she always manages to get there in the nick of time.
For four years "Jo" has gotten her share of testimonials without exerting a great deal of effort.
She is seen at all football games and is a great asset to our cheering section.

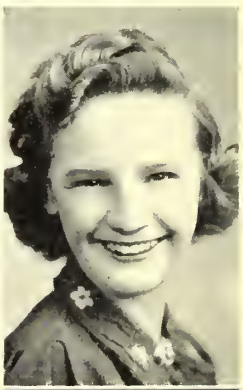
HELEN PRATT

Normal Course

Basketball 2, 3, 4, History Circle, Photography, Junior Prom Committee, Orchestra.

"She giggles and giggles,
Ye gods! How she giggles!"

Chatter, chatter, and Mr. McSherry's biggest worry is in progress! A few giggles, some further noise, and all is quiet in Clinton High, for our shy little Helen has graduated. What will the teachers do without her?
But beneath all her gayness, she has some very fine credit coming her way, although she occasionally allows her books to rest peacefully in her homeroom desk.



CATHERINE RONCONE

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"And laughter, holding both its sides."

Catherine appears to be such a quiet girl, but don't let that fool you, for she can always be seen with her inseparable pals, "Theresa, Marge, and Mary."
"Caddy" is another of those girls from the "Hill." She is very popular and always has a smile for everyone.
She plans to become a hairdresser, and with her ability we know she will succeed. Best wishes from the Class of 1940.

MARY JOSEPHINE RUANE

College Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Junior Prom Committee.

"Without labor, nothing prospers."

Cheerful, friendly, and ever ready to lend a helping hand, Mary is held high in the hearts of her classmates.

Mary was never known to be over-studious, but managed to get through her subjects in a very creditable fashion.

There is never a dull moment when Mary is around, for she is full of fun, and never tires of talking (as her teachers can testify). She is very fond of sports, and could be seen cheering for C.H.S. on all occasions.

WILLIAM RUBERTI

Commercial Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Class Book Staff.

"On with the dance."

Who is the fellow that girls fight over at the Senior dances? Who's the boy that causes genuine smiles of pleasure when he approaches a group in the corridors? Who is this scholar who never fails to support our class by attending all its social functions and yet amazes the faculty with his constant high averages? Who — but wait, you guessed it, it's that 100 per cent "swell guy" — "Willie" Ruberti.

"Bill's" stature kept him from taking an active part in sports, but his enthusiastic support can be observed at the sidelines of any of our games.

MARILYN ANN RUDDY

College Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Photography Club, Jr. Prom Committee.

"There is none like her, none."

Marilyn is not the studious type — rather she a typical high school girl, doing the required homework, taking the necessary subjects (incidentally getting certified), and participating in all high school activities.

Her charm and personality, coupled with a winning smile has endeared her to all her classmates.

She has the ability and persistence to become a great success in reaching any goal that she may set for herself. Whatever this goal may be, she has the best wishes of the Class of 1940.

DOROTHY MARY RYAN

College Course

Vice President Class 2, 3, Junior Prom Committee, Class Book Staff, Vice President History Circle, French Club.

"A certain dignity of manner."

Charming personality, scholastic ability, and many other sterling qualities conspire to make Dorothy one of the most prominent and popular members of our class. Her popularity was shown when she was elected Vice President of our class her sophomore and junior years and Vice President of the History Circle her senior year. Dot has stood out scholastically during her four years in high school and graduates with high honors.

J. RAYMOND SALMON

Commercial Course

Class President 4, Inter-Class Dramatics 1, 2, 3, 4, Senior Show, Thanksgiving Revue 3, Class Book Staff, History Circle, Tau Sigma, Jr. Marshall, Chairman Senior Show, Jr. Prom Committee, Photography Club, Student Council.

"The world knows little of its greatest men."

Ray is one of our more loquacious members as he can always be seen chatting industriously with someone.

"Sarg" is best known for his dramatic accomplishments, being the John Barrymore of his class. He has appeared in all of 1940's theatrical attempts.

When he is not clerking in Brockleman's Branch 2 store, he is performing his duties as class president.

HELENE MARY SANMARTINO

College Course

History Circle, Junior Prom Committee, Photography Club.

"As quiet as can be, yet pleasant to all."

Every morning she gets up at six, waits on the corner for the bus at seven, hails it, boards it, and she's off for Clinton High School. That's Helene!

Helene hails from the town of Sterling. She came to us three years ago and graced our school with her pleasant disposition.

At first glance one thinks she is quiet and reserved. But anyone who has studied with her knows that she contributes her share of noise and laughter.

WALTRAUD C. SCHMIDT

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"I saw my duty, and I did it."

A true pal, full of vitality and enthusiasm, a bright smile for everybody — this describes Wally.

In school she is an example of a good student, for her lessons are always carefully prepared.

Wally hasn't decided whether she will serve the world in a nurse's uniform or delight ocean voyagers as a steamship hostess.

An ingratiating manner, and a sparkling wit will be missed by all when we wish Wally best wishes for the future.

JAMES EDWARD SCHOFIELD

Technical Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Class Book Staff, Historical Society, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee.

"When Irish eyes are smiling."

"Jim" is a cheerful, intelligent, and conservative student, who despite the fact that he is one of our working boys always manages to keep his marks well above the testimonial grade. "Jimmy" is one of the most popular boys in the Senior Class and is a favorite with the opposite sex. Although he hasn't participated in any of the school sports, because he hasn't the time, he usually attends most of the games and other school activities. At present Jim is on the high seas enrolled in the Mass. Nautical School.

MARY LILLIAN SCHUBERT

Commercial Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Class Book Staff.

"Much wisdom often goes with few years."

Mary is one of the brightest girls in our class and we expect her to get honors in any field she chooses. She is quiet and conservative, and her charming smile has pleased teachers as well as students. Although Mary puts in more hours of study than the average student, she is present at many of the school's social functions and can be counted on to do her share in making them a success.

JEANNETTE BRIDGET SHERIDAN

Commercial Course

History Circle, Shorthand Circle, Junior Committee, Photography Club.

"Merry as the day is long."

Jeannette's every-ready happy go lucky manner was just the tonic we needed after a particularly hard bout with tests. Perhaps this is the reason so many of her classmates were attracted to her. She has never disappointed them, and has always helped them to see the brighter side of life.

No doubt she will along with bright and happy spirit into her future life. The best wishes of '40 go with her.

CHARLES SLADEN

General Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma.

"Better late than never."

Charlie is one of those boys whose presence always peps up a gathering on account of his spontaneous wit and humor. During his four years at C. H. S. he was won a host of friends.

He is a consistent student with ambition enough, we know, to carry him successfully to his goal.

Best of luck from '40, Charlie.

ELLYN MARION SMITH

Normal Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Class Book Staff.

"Her friendship cannot be valued too highly."

A diligent and talented student, Ellyn has always stood high in the estimation of both teachers and students. Serious in school work, and fun loving in times of play, she always seems to be in the right spot at the right time. These characteristics, combined with her sincere willingness to help, have won for her a place in our hearts.

As a result of her hard work she has always held a foremost place among the intellectuals of '40. The entire class feels proud of her accomplishments, and takes joy in calling her a classmate.

MARIAN SMYTH

College Course

History Circle, Jr. Prom Committee, Photography Club.

"Her friendship cannot be valued too highly."

Marian is a quiet demure Miss and is well liked by all who know her. She is noted for her good nature, personality, and bright smile. At recess if you see a worried look on Marian's face you will know it is because of her French which she takes E Period.

Marian hopes to become a nurse in the near future. Here's wishing her luck in her chosen profession.

EDMUND SOLDI

College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma.

"He was a scholar, and a good one."

This little man entered our portals four years ago descending from the heights of Burditt Hill and at the end of these years "the Hill" can well be proud of this contribution to the class of '40.

A student of consistent testimonial character and a true "jolly good-fellow" he leaves with a sincere adieu from '40 and best wishes for future success.

ANNE C. STAMOS

Commercial Course

Honorary Member Clinton Women's Club, History Circle, French Club, Shorthand Circle, Photography Club, Basketball 2, 3, 4, Senior Show, Class Book Staff.

"Faithfulness to duty brings its own reward."

Popular, brilliant, congenial, and obliging — to whom would these apply, but Anne!

"Brilliant" especially fits her because she has always maintained a very high standard in school work.

Anne's ability in sports is varied, but we remember her best as one of the basketball team's most prominent members.

Anne also showed her talent in the Senior Show. She plans to further her studies at Boston University.

RAYMOND STEELE

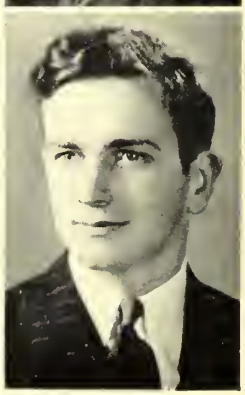
College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Prom Committee, Cheerleader 3, 4, Thanksgiving Show 3, Photography Club, Bulletin Board 3, Junior Marshall, Stage Manager Dramatics 3, 4.

"The world listens to the man who talks well."

Raymond Steele is that boy with the million dollar smile and the pleasing personality that has won him so many friends. Ray is popular both with his teachers and his classmates. He is not what we would call a student but when marks come out we notice that he does quite well for himself.

Ray is interested in sports and for the past two years has been one of our able cheerleaders.



MARGARET ALICE THOMSON

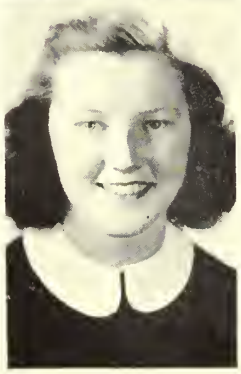
Normal Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Orchestra, Basketball 1, 2.

"Peg" is never exactly late, for she manages to reach the Hall before the "gong" and although out of breath, anyone she meets is greeted with a cheery "Hello!"

Peg's leisure hours are spent tickling the ivories, but she takes a great interest in H. S. activities, and her attendance at the football games shows her other interests in sports.

As a rule, Peggy is quiet, observant, and always willing to help, but although she is one of the youngest members of our class, facts or ideas never worry her, as she believes "that imagination rules the world."



CATHERINE LOUISE TIERNEY

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Shorthand Circle, Jr. Prom Committee.

"All I tell is sweet and merry."

Catherine's ability to make and keep friends has made her one of the most popular girls in the class. Unfailing good nature, pleasing personality, and jolly companionship — all are characteristic of "Caddy." She has been a participant in all school activities and a staunch supporter of every team. This certainly proves false the old adage that red hair means "beware" — fiery temper.

We know Caddy's sterling qualities will account for success she is sure to have in whatever vocation she may select.

PHILLIP TROTT

General Course

Photography Club.

"Responsibility educates."

Phillip is one of our most industrious young men, both in and away from school. During his years as a member of our class he has won a host of friends by his winning smile, ever readiness to lend a willing hand and genial personality.

Phillip's ambition is to further his business career, and we are confident of his future success.

MINA ROSE MARY TURINI

Commercial Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

Mina is one of the quietest members of the senior class and well one of the smallest, but she compensates in congeniality and a pleasing personality what she lacks in stature.

Her plans for the future are unknown as yet but we wish her success in whatever she undertakes to do.

FRANCEL EDITH TYRRELL

College Course

History Circle, French Club, Historical Society, Photography Club, Prom Committee, Class Book Staff.

"I work, I work,
Oh how I work."

Francel is one of our intellectuals as well as a social success. She has always been able to remain one of our honor students.

Franny never fails to appear at all social functions and she takes an active part on all school activities.

When we wanted any style flashes, Fran was the girl to look to, for she always looked charming.

Her amiable personality has won for her many friends, both boys and girls, and we are sure it will win her many more.

H. NELSON ULRICH

College Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Photography Club.

"He picked something valuable out of everything he read."

A quiet sort of fellow, saying little but observing everything. That, my friends, is Nelson Ulrich.

Although always in attendance at the social affairs of the High School, Nelson would rather see others in the limelight than to be there himself. This trait might make some people think him bashful, but his real friends know this is not so.

Henry did not go out for sports because of his slight build, but he enjoys all games and never misses one if it can be helped.

ALICE HELEN DOROTHY VAGHINI

Normal Course

Photography Club, History Circle.

"Quietness has its own charms."

Alice is one of the conscientious workers of our class. Ever since we have known her, we have thought of her as being thoughtful, industrious, and sincere. She is always able to add something to a discussion in class. We are sure Alice will lead a life of true service in whatever profession she enters. We might say of her as Charles Dickens has said of his life, "Whatever I have tried to do in life, I have tried to do well, in great aims and small, I have been in earnest."

EDWARD THOMAS VITONE

General Course

Tau Sigma, Photography Club, History Circle.

"His Voice was deep and true."

"Vic" was one of the quieter boys of the class up to his Junior year, but from that point on he certainly was'nt one of those "seen but not heard" children.

Due to his lack of size he wasn't able to participate in all sports, but was a staunch supporter of all the school activities, nevertheless. Pleasant nature, cheerful grin, quick wit, businesslike manner, these words describe Vic to the tenth degree.

Vic has not yet made up his mind to what vocation he will choose, but with such a personality he can't help but attain success.

MYLES WALKER

Commercial Course

History Circle, Tau Sigma, Class Book Staff, Sophomore French Club, Photography Club.

"For me the past has no regret."

Myle's sincere and pleasant manner has made him a friend to all of his High School classmates. His ability to stay on the testimonial list throughout his stay in high school proves that he is studious and interested in his school work. Although his future undertakings are indefinite, the Class of 1940 wishes him the best of success.

MARY A. WELCH

College Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

"Silence brings its own pleasure."

Mary is a pretty blonde; quiet, sweet, and lady-like. For the past four years Mary has very easily managed to keep on the testimonial list, although she has never been known to burn the midnight oil. Her ability to mix work and play has made many friends for Mary and they all wish her success in her future plans. Her ambition is to become a beauty culturist when she leaves with the Class of '40's best wishes for success.

EDITH WHITE

Commercial Course

Shorthand Circle, Photography Club, History Circle, Bulletin Board Staff.

"Let come whao may,
I meet it nonchalano."

Kay Kyser: "What blond, blue-eyed girl in the Class of '40 is best noted for her pep and originality, her cute clothes and her perfect dancing??? Students??? — Why Edith White, of course."

Edith never spent her spare time studying, but always managed to get her share of testimonials. She is well-liked by her classmates and is usually surrounded by them at her favorite haunt — The Candy Shoppe."

MARJORIE WHITNEY

General Course

History Circle, Photography Club.

Marjorie will be remembered by most of us for her sparkling good nature and her willingness to join in the fun at all times.

To those who didn't know her real well Marjorie appeared very studious and serious — but to her pals — ah that was different. Every school affair found her present and willing to give whatever support she could to put it over.

As to her future plans — well those are a bit undecided — but whatever they may be the best wishes of 1940 go along with them.

LAURIE WILES

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, History Circle, Photography Club.

"Large as life, and twice as natural."

Laurie does not profess to have anything that makes him distinctive, but we all think him a swell fellow. He is of the quiet, conservative type, but when he loosens up he can make anyone forget his work or studies. He is the proud possessor of a keen sense of humor.
Although not a member of our athletic squads he is very fond of sports and is the owner of a physique which should make any boy envious.
No need to wish him luck because he can't help but succeed.

EUNICE WINSHIP

Commercial Course

Secretary of Shorthand Circle, History Circle.

"The very personification of friendship."

We remember Eunice as sometimes shy but she has her moments of being full of fun. She is always attractive and neat, this is probably because she wants to make an impression on one of her "crushes." You will generally find her doing some typing for the office or for the Shorthand Club, of which she is the popular secretary, and saying, "I'll never get it done." She is not sure what she will do in the future, but she will probably become a very successful private secretary and we wish her great success in whatever she does.

ANN YALIAN

Commercial Course

Vice President Shorthand Circle, History Circle, Secretary Photography Club, Class Book Staff, Junior Prom Committee, Literary Club, Bulletin Board 2, Field Hockey.

"A friend in need
Is a friend indeed."

Ann is one of our most versatile seniors. She has one of the sunniest dispositions in the class and her willingness to help others has won her many friends. Besides her active membership in school clubs, she finds time to take office in outside organizations. Despite the fact that these activities consume much of her time, she is an outstanding student, as the General Excellence lists prove.

DANIEL ZEATAS

Commercial Course

Tau Sigma, Shorthand Circle, History Circle, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee, Senior Show Committee, Orchestra, Sophomore Thanksgiving Show.

"Nothing ventured, nothing gained."

"Danny" is one of the best-liked and best-known personalities in Clinton High. Possessed of an attractive smile and being always well dressed, are only two good reasons for "Dan's" never being lonesome at socials. He has shown his ability and talent as a classical violinist, one of the leading members of the C.H.S. Orchestra for four successive years.
Scholastically, Dan has managed to receive good rankings, and has won the esteem of all his teachers.

FANNIE DEBORAH ZEIDEL

College Course

Class Book Staff, History Circle, French Club, Photography Club, Junior Prom Committee.

Fannie's pleasant smile and good-natured disposition have made her many friends in Clinton High School. She spends many enjoyable hours playing tennis, her favorite sport. Her plans for the future are to become a medical secretary and her ability to finish what she starts assures us that she will be a success.

The Class of 1940 wishes her the best of luck in her chosen profession.

MARY FRANCES MCNALLY

Commercial Course

History Circle, Photography Club, Sophomore Minstrel Show.

During her stay at C.H.S. "Naya" has gained a host of friends because of her cheerful disposition and charming personality.

She is a staunch supporter of all class activities and whenever one of her fellow students required a helping hand, "Naya" was always willing.

As all good things come to an end we must say good-bye to "Naya" and though her plans for the future are not definite we hope that she will meet with success in whatever she undertakes.

Class of 1940 as Freshmen

1940 in Review

1936—FRESHMAN—1937

September 6, 1936 — 259 rather frightened and bewildered boys and girls have entered C. H. S. to be enrolled as Freshmen. By the way, how come they call first year students "Freshmen"? Very meek, mild, and humble would describe them better.

September 12, 1936 — Bands are playing, soldiers marching, flags flying, thousands of people crowding both sides of High Street. It's a parade! and 259 of us made up one division in the parade. Yes sir — and everyone said the Freshman class looked pretty snappy in the St. Mihiel Day Parade.

January 22, 1937 — Ah, at last! We come upon that dreaded day in our school career. Our first Mid-Year — but we took them as they came, hoping for the best.

April 4, 1937 — Our first attempt at Dramatics. The Freshman class presented "Money for Jam." We didn't get the prize but we had a lot of fun.

1937—SOPHOMORE—1938

And now we have come to man's estate. We look a bit disdainfully upon the Freshman class just entering, for now we are Sophomores. As further evidence that we have at last come into our own we held our first class election with the following results: John T. Grady, President; Dorothy Ryan, Vice President; Peter Garofoli, Treasurer; and Sophie Nicholas, Secretary. As usual we took part in the annual Interclass Dramatics, but again failed in our attempt to win the prize.

However, we did have the satisfaction of sharing with our fellow students, the honor of having a Midland League Championship Football Team. There were no startling activities sponsored by our class during our Sophomore year, time just seemed to march on until . . .

1938—JUNIOR—1939

And so we are Juniors! A big year for us it was.

First our class election, with a slight change in our class officers. John T. Grady was again elected President, with Dorothy Ryan and Peter Garofoli also reelected, but Beatrice Dowd became our class Secretary when the votes were counted. Peter Garofoli, our efficient Treasurer, really began to put the pressure on for class dues this year, and in an effort to build up our class treasury we sponsored a movie at the Strand, and also presented a stage show which we naively called "School Days." The outstanding talent of our class was called upon to assist, which they gladly did, and the result was a dandy show and a considerable sum added to our class treasury.

As usual the Interclass Dramatics — and as usual our class didn't win the prize. Class rings were selected and purchased this year, as further evidence of our loyalty to good old 1940.

And at last the night of nights! The Junior Prom — our Junior Prom! The decorating committee working to transform the Town Hall into a fitting setting for our reception to the Seniors. Banners, streamers, gayly-colored balloons, cozy corner, spotlights, dazzling gowns, white suits, Ray Harrington's Orchestra, the Grand March! A night long to be remembered — Our Junior Prom — and our Junior year has slipped along in the inevitable march of time until . . .

Class of 1940 as Seniors

Senior Year

1939—SENIOR—1940

We are Seniors! It doesn't seem possible. Seems only yesterday we entered C. H. S. as Freshmen — but now we are starting on our last year, fully resolved to make it the most memorable year in our lives. First the formality of a class election with a number of changes resulting. Raymond Salmon was elected President, Mary Ferguson, Vice President; Angie Battista, Secretary; and our old stand-by Peter Garofoli, Treasurer. Evidently Peter established some sort of record being elected Treasurer each year. A distinct tribute to a swell classmate.

Our first splurge this year was our Senior Dance on October 11 in Music Hall. Music by the Jive Kings, and a good time was had by all. On October 30 the Senior class turned out en masse to attend the Football Club Invitation Dance — chalk up another good time. Our next big affair was the Senior Show. Mr. Gordon was again called upon to coach the play and after preliminary try outs and rehearsals the show was presented to a goodly crowd. Again Ray Harrington and his orchestra for music and before we realized it the Senior Show had come and gone.

Next the Interclass Dramatics and — ah!! the Seniors after battling three long years finally won the coveted award for presenting the best play. And what a play — laughs and fun galore and some fine acting by our fellow Seniors.

On May 3 another Senior Dance in Music Hall. A Glamour Girl was selected (none other than a member of the Senior class, Naya McNally). Various prizes were distributed and everyone attending agreed it was another grand party.

And what's this!! A notice that Miss Driscoll is calling rehearsals for graduation music? A sure sign that graduation itself can not be far away. Seems hard to believe, but off to Music we go! Oh, yes, and we've already been measured for Caps and Gowns — had our pictures taken — the graduation speaker has been announced, none other than an alumnus of C. H. S., Senator Walsh — and, well, seems now it is just a matter of time until that eventful evening when we assemble at the Town Hall to receive our diplomas.

Class Will

As the time draws near for us to leave this dear school of ours, we, the class of 1940, being of passably sound mind and body, wish at this time to leave some of our outstanding qualities and abilities to those who will follow in our footsteps.

But, first we wish to express our deepest gratitude to our Principal, Mr. Cobb, and the entire faculty for their sympathetic understanding, inspiring leadership, and guidance which were always there to lead us through the difficulties we encountered.

Beatrice Dowd leaves her hair shampoo to Millicent Sanford.

To the helpless, Anna Yalian leaves her help.

Helen Pratt takes her "giggles" with her for future use. (Thank goodness — Junior Class)

Jim Cummings should get Jack's acting ability, and already has his accent.

Ray O'Malley leaves with Jean

"Gotcha Dues" is left ringing in our ears by the one and only, and none other than, Peter Garofoli.

Angie Battista leaves her personality to "Babe" Russell.

Peggy Thomson leaves "Gone With the Wind!" and her Afghan still unfinished.

Ray Steele leaves with Frannie, bow tie, curling iron, etc.

Lorraine (Ducky) Leedham leaves her shoes to the Freshmen. (The Juniors couldn't get into them.)

The ice cream scooper goes with Nelson Ulrich.

Kilcoyne, McDonald, and Schofield leave with the words, "Your seat," on their lips.

Lena Innamorati leaves calling, "Come on home, 'Idie'."

To the office — a "lost and found" bureau.

Paul Lynskey leaves muttering "Confucious Says."

Edith White leaves midst whispers of "Doesn't she look like Bette Davis!"

Ray McNamara leaves — surprised?

Many Senior girls leave wondering about the meaning of "Tau Sigma."

Ethel Hester leaves loudly humming. (To herself)

James Mitchell leaves his title of second glamour boy. (Willingly)

Joseph Kulis leaves after three years of High School. (Bravo, Joe)

Jeanette Sheridan leaves us a whiff of "Old Spice."

George Kamataris leaves, mentally playing, "720 In the Books."

Joe Collins leaves a quart of milk to Mr. Comisky.

Anna Marinelli and Adela Novak leave clutching their diaries.

John Burgoyne leaves his many inches to be added to Danny O'Malley's many yards. (Put it all to good use, Danny.)

The senior shorthand students leave their notebooks as an inspiration to all concerned in the coming years, and as a headache to Miss Gannon.

Sophie Nicholas leaves the length of her skirts as is.

To next year's varsity football team, we, with a sigh, leave Ray Ball.

From the Seniors to the Juniors — a book entitled, "101 Ways to Make Money."

Ruby Garrison leaves us bewildered by those "90's."

Ray Salmon leaves — still advising the Senior Class.

Bud Learned leaves the girls singing "What's the matter with me?"

William Ruberti leaves "Cutting a Rug."

John Merriman leaves quietly, but not unnoticed.

Betty Kinnear leaves her "not over fifty" sticker to Paul Kittredge.

John Grady leaves after giving us a class book to be proud of.

Mary Schubert leaves her pleasant smile to many who can use one.

Anne Stamos leaves, leading a troop of "secretaries."

Martha Hastings leaves with the "gang" from the Candy Shoppe.

Jennie Lambros and Angeline Kartalos leave, still together.

Francel Tyrrell leaves, leading the fashion parade.

Myles Walker bequeaths his vocabulary to Mr. Gordon's future English students.

Napoleon leaves his position as school mascot — but he'll be back to reclaim it next year.

Naya McNally leaves her mirror to anyone who will accept it.

The football squad leaves its record and dares the Junior class to equal it!

Eleanor Hudson leaves her height and begs the Juniors to add to it.

And now, before we close and seal this Will, we, the Class of 1940, leave to the future classes of Clinton High School the inspiring leadership of our Class advisor, Henry M. O'Toole.

We hope that all who have received gifts will sincerely appreciate them. We are sorry that some of the seniors found it necessary to keep for themselves their special qualities.

So, we leave you. May you know as many happy hours in this school as we have.

Signed and sealed in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty.

Freshman Inter-Class Play

When we were wee, little, timid freshmen, one of the most outstanding and best liked plays in 1937, made its debut.

This screamingly funny, and fast-moving comedy was "Money for Jam" depicting a charming irresponsible family and their efforts to obtain financial assistance from a wealthy aunt.

Mr. Winters characterized by Francis MacDonald, and Mrs. Winters, his wife, played by Roberta Miehlke, are clever, light-hearted and broke. Stingy Aunt Caroline calls and is so "high-hat" that they decide to teach her a lesson. They do, and in a delightfully novel manner.

Punch dramatized by Anthony Laramie pursues his little love affair with Judy, portrayed by Bobby Nicholas, and the two perform many funny antics throughout the whole play.

Aunt Caroline Nutt, acted by Ethel Hester and Albert, her son, a delicate and effeminate youth, played by J. Raymond Salmon, prove to be the victims of the plot.

However, fate intervenes, upsets the plan and provides the basis for a droll situation which makes the comedy a great dramatic story.

Our class is deeply indebted to all who participated in the show and also to Miss Ellen M. McIntyre, who made the great success of the drama possible.

Sophomore Inter-Class Play

Growing up a bit, we produced a very comical, and yet dramatic episode "Deferential Kindness," proclaimed a "sure-fire" hit by all who witnessed it.

Roberta Miehlke dramatizes to perfection, a pretty woman of forty-five, who tries hard to understand her children, but just can't. Therefore her answers are often indefinite and undecided. The P. T. A. is firm ground for her and she can talk freely on the subject.

Bobby Nicholas as Elaine, a beautiful girl, and daughter of Mrs. Elliot is at the age when old friends aren't good enough, therefore she overthrows her best friend Fred Shannon played by Anthony Laramie, a good-mannered and well dressed young man, for a college student, whose popularity has gone to his head, making him very conceited. This person is Roger Dillon, portrayed by Raymond O'Malley who is a poor listener except when he, himself, is doing the talking.

J. Raymond Salmon as Cyril, Elaine's brother, a "likeable" kid, proves to be very unlikeable in many instances as his sister well knows.

Phoneeia, or Stella Phillips, a good-natured colored woman, loves to talk and therefore takes Cyril into her confidence, and the two plot to make Fred win Elaine back by "Deferential Kindness."

They prove to be successful and when the curtain falls "everyone is happy" except Roger who is out in the cold again, outwitted by a woman. Cause as Elaine says "He done her wrong."

This is one of those rare and really funny plays which acts itself, and we, the class of "40" are so - - so - - so grateful to our Coach and Director, Miss Anna E. Harris who helped us and gave of her time so unselfishly to the success of our play as Sophomores.

"Trash"

Junior Inter-Class Play

This is a story of life in the Big City of New York where Central Park is a collection of people from all walks of life.

The characters are a policeman, tramp, and a kid portrayed by Raymond O'Malley, J. Raymond Salmon and Robert Flynn respectively.

J. Raymond is enjoying the comfort of a park bench and a newspaper plus a cigar which to the delight of the audience he really smoked, when a policeman threatens to "run him in" if he is caught sleeping on the bench again. But these threats mean nothing to him for as soon as the policeman is gone he returns. The next occupant of the bench is the kid, full of despair on his failure to make good in the city. The kid has purchased a gun and is about to resort to crime, but the tramp seeing his motive removes the weapon and sets the boy right in his road of life and tells him to go home. The tramp throws the gun in the trash-can and everyone is happy as the tramp goes to sleep on the bench after the cop has narrowly missed catching him with the gun.

The story was something new and different from any play that has been attempted in the Inter-Class Dramatics and to a majority of the audience should have won but the judges didn't seem to agree.

The players suited their parts perfectly; "Ray" O'Malley was an unmatchable picture of an Irish Policeman, "Ray" Salmon, who has been in all the class plays has already established a record for his antics and versatility on the stage, Robert Flynn due to his height and acting ability added authenticity to the part.

To Henry M. O'Toole, the class of 1940 is obliged for his interminable stability in directing and selecting his cast and representing our class with a play to be remembered.

"Quiet Please !"

Senior Inter-Class Show

For their contribution to the Interclass dramatics competition, the Seniors presented a hilarious comedy, Quiet Please! It was ably directed by Mr. Frank O'Toole, to whom much credit goes for our success, for we were the winners of the competition.

The play concerns two brothers, Raymond Salmon as Judd Harris, and James Mitchell as Jeff Harris; who have not spoken to each other for ten years. The Sunnyville Christian Society comprising Jack Cummings as Reverend Andrews, Ethel Hester as Mattie Wiggam, Anna Durkin as Jessica, and Catherine Duffy as Josie; decide that something should be done. They come to the home of the two brothers, which is unusual in the fact that everything in the cabin appears in duplicate and down the center of the floor is a chalk line; with a plan of compromise, but they accomplish nothing.

Then Catherine Philips, played by Roberta Miehlke, arrives and invites herself to dinner and eventually spends the night, though not very welcome, forcing the two brothers to sleep together. In the morning after she has left, the two brothers consciously, at first begin to talk to one another. The conversation continues and finally reaches a climax in the form of a heated argument which ends by the brothers refusing again to speak to one another. When the Reverend returns, his plan of compromise is emphatically vetoed by a blunt NO! from Judd.

All the members of the cast turned in exceptionally fine performances and the audience was kept in gales of laughter over the antics of the two brothers. We feel sure that the Seniors deserved the award for a very fine performance.

"Abigail Goes Haywire"

Senior Show

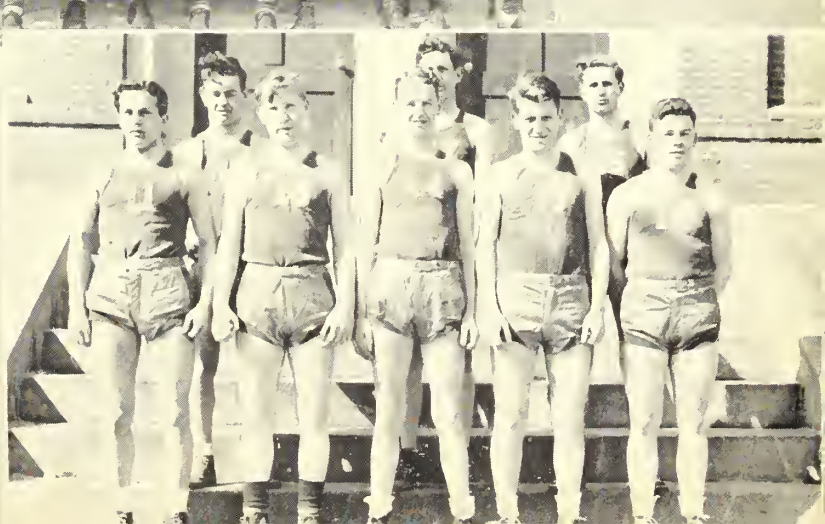
Our senior show presented in the town hall on December twenty-seventh was a success both socially and financially.

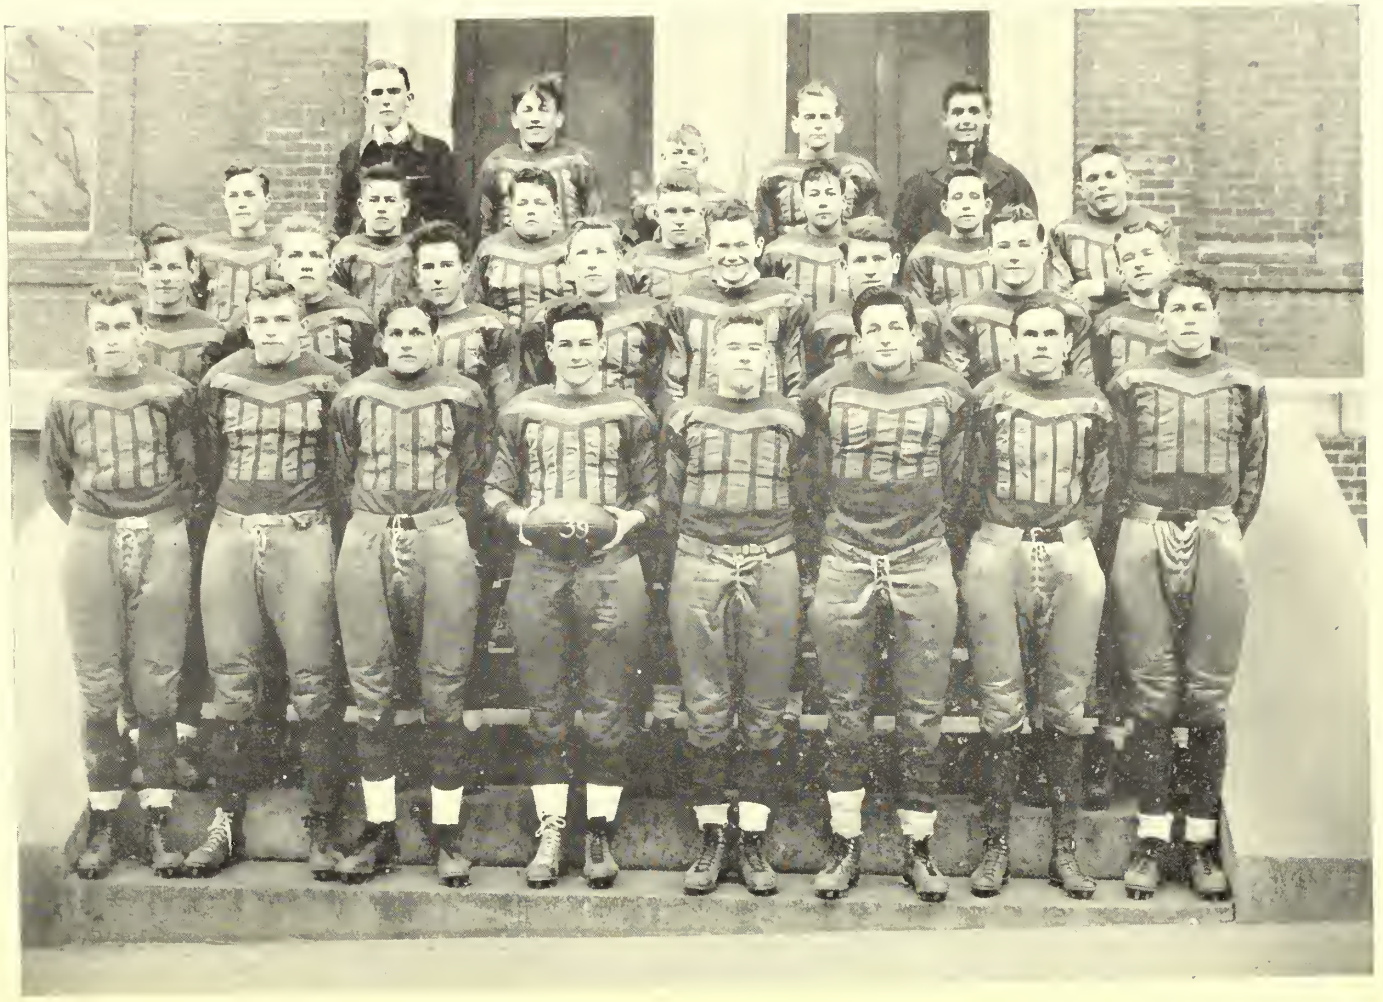
The members of the cast were well adapted to their respective parts and proved to be able artists. Much of the credit for the success of our show goes to Mr. Gordon, our patient and ever willing director; we cannot speak too highly of his direction.

Roberta Miehlke as Abigail Hyde, surprised the audience by a complete change of appearance in the third act from a be-spectacled "old maid" authoress to a blooming flower of youth. Sophie Nicholas, as Janice Holtham, was inspiring in her role, and aided much in drawing the laughs. Ethel Hester turned in a superb performance as the third member of the trio. Appearing for the first time in C. H. S. dramatics, Jack Cummings, as Don St. John, made a very handsome and dashing hero, and certainly was an inspiration for Abigail to go haywire.

In his usual inimitable style, Ray Salmon, as the would-be villian of the play, surprises both himself and the audience by his changes of character. Besides being the villian, Ray stole the show for his comedy acting. John Gannon as the carpenter, John Meridith, received many laughs from the audience. In supporting roles were Anne Stamos, as Hannah, who portrayed her part well, lending comedy to the situations in which she appeared. James Mitchell as Oliver Mortimer, was the "informer" of the play and cleared up the first case of mistaken identity in an excellent manner.

Athletics





1940 Midland League Champions

Football

As last year's graduation played havoc with the success of the 1939-40 eleven, Coach McCaffrey and many of us didn't expect great things; but to our surprise, out of the unexperienced but determined players, who reported for practice one September day, there emerged the 1939 Midland-League Football Champions.

The eleven was led by the likeable Willard "Bud" Learned whose fine leadership and true sportsmanship brought him deserved recognition when he was chosen All-Midland guard.

In previous years Gardner had played havoc with the records of many of our opening games. This repeated itself when our boys went down proudly to defeat in a sluggish tilt in Gardner. Score: Gardner 6, Clinton 0.

Next game in the schedule was with the haughty-team and coach of Milford High. Both teams blew hot and cold to no avail. Score: Clinton 0, Milford 0.

Somewhat enlivened by the completion of the renovation of Fuller's Field and also by the home-rooters on home-ground, our eleven eked out a victory over plucky and sportsmanlike Bartlett High of Webster. Score: Clinton 7, Bartlett 6.

Having led and out-played Leominster High for the first ten minutes, our team like many a former Clinton High eleven collapsed. Not being able to cope with the reserves of Leominster and injury riddled during the fracas, a tired but proud Clinton eleven tasted defeat. Score: Leominster 33, Clinton 6.

Bouncing back from a hard blow at Leominster's hands, our gridders jumped upon Marlboro in that city. With the aid of an adding machine, the scores placed the wreath of victory upon Clinton. Score: Clinton 37, Marlboro 6.

Returning to home grounds after two games away, we then encountered the big Red and White of Athol. The score was no indication of the hard battle between the two teams. Score: Clinton 20, Athol 6.

When St. Bernard's of Fitchburg came to town, we thought they resembled somewhat the big and slow team of Gardner. Our thoughts proved to be true. Score: 0-0.

Playing to a Thanksgiving Day crowd which overflowed Fuller's Field, our team captured a Maynard fumble on our own one-foot line. When it seemed we were in striking distance of pay-dirt, something blocked our way. Finally through persistence we crossed the last white line. Score: Clinton 6, Maynard 0.

When the season ended, Clinton and Milford were tied for the honor of Midland League Champions. Riverside Park of Hudson was the scene of the fracas. Using gloves to warm their cold hands, Milford outplayed us in the first quarter. Determined to carry away the title, Clinton steam-rolled Steeves's-men. Score: Clinton 26, Milford 7.

Seniors — Cap't W. Learned, R. Mayberry, R. O'Malley, R. McNamara, G. Kanatans, P. Pappas, W. O'Toole, J. Merrimen, J. Lavelle, F. Kaminski, and J. Mitchell.

Others — J. Gannon, R. Ball, S. Stuka, J. Stuka, A. Browchuk, J. Fazio, K. Johnson, P. Kittredge, R. Mascuiseek, R. Flanders, M. Lacey, E. McBrayne, E. Caffereli, P. Lavelle, B. Freeman, and R. Flanagan.

1940 Midland League Champions

Baseball

Clinton has been noted for its baseball teams, and the 1940 nine upheld our reputation. Clinton High, as any other club, tasted sweet victory and also sour defeat.

This year's nine was a hustling ball-club though it suffered successive defeats at the hands of Maynard and Milford. Our nine, with heads unbowed, battered away its opponents with cocky Milford making a run-away with the Midland League, Clinton exhibited a fighting spirit. Its efforts were not in vain. With high hopes of capturing the titl after a lapse of eight years, our team worked hard and true to snatch it in the play-o with Milford. This we did in a play-off game in Hudson.

Clinton High will surely miss the absence of Seniors, Pappas and Learned. "Pete" with his smoke and stuff kept our team in the thick of the fight. "Bud" Learned, one of the best athletes developed at our school, will be remembered for his slugging and stellar patrol of the outfield. Seniors Kaminski and H. Despotopulus also contributed greatly to the success of the team.

A salute to the Midland League Champions!

THE SQUAD

Pitchers — Pappas, Young, H. Despotopulus, Kaminski, Tierney, and O'Malley.
Catchers — J. Stuka and Flanders.
Infield — Ball, Polewarcyk, McBrayne, Cap't S. Stuka and Browchuck.
Outfield — Learned, Flanagan, and S. Despotopulus.

Our Basketball Team

Basketball

From the material on hand, a coach can fairly guess the success of his team.

Such was the case of Coach McCaffrey when he first viewed the prospective hoopsters. More to his or our surprise did the team finish the season with a fair record. Minus height which is essential to successful quintets, our boys by their aggressiveness and hoop technique overcame this obstacle.

If you look in the summary below, you will observe that the quintet had its spurts of wins and loss when it reeled off win after win and then suffered continual defeat, but finally finishing strong on the home-stretch.

Leading his team through victory or defeat, Cap't "Ray" McNamara will stand out in our minds as peppery and aggressive.

Next year we expect a real, typical C. H. S. quintet.

Girls' Basketball

After a lapse of many years, girls' basketball was once more resumed in 1939, under the supervision of Mrs. Pauline Crockett. As most of the girls were making their first attempt at this sport, only interclass competition was held.

During the 1940 season, Miss Natalie Praderio graciously accepted the position of coach. Under her excellent guidance a girls' varsity was formed. Great things were not to be expected, but from the schedule listed below, you will notice that we made an exceptionally good standing, considering that it was our first try at outside competition.

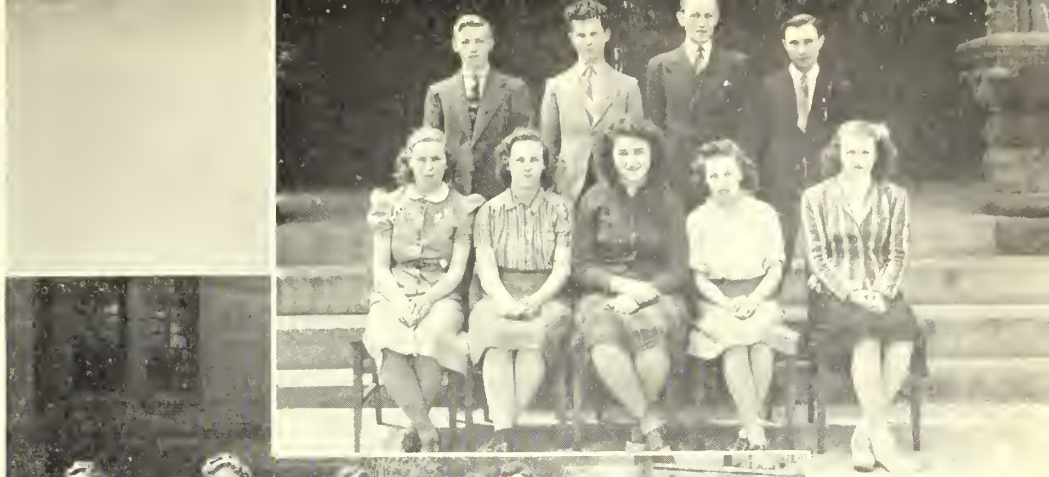
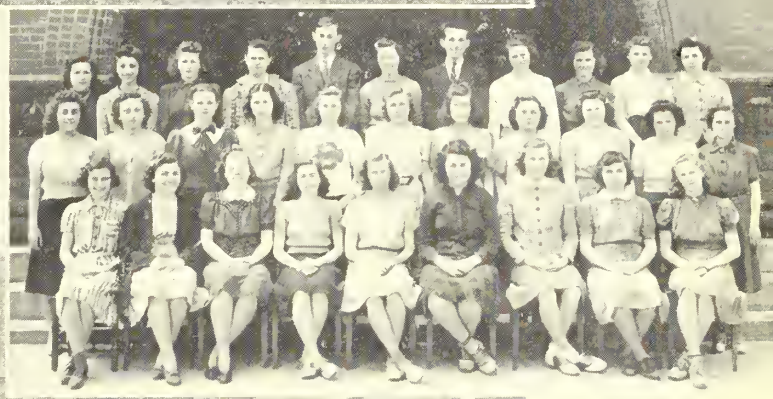
Activities





History Circle

The ink on the mid-year papers was hardly dry when inquiries began to pour in about organizing the History Circle.

After due and careful deliberation the first meeting was called at which time the organization of the Circle was perfected with the election of William Powers as President, Betty Monroe, Secretary and George Latimen, Treasurer.

Our next regular meeting was in the form of a trip to the Holden Memorial. Due to the illness of the representative of the Clinton Historical Society who is usually present to explain the various exhibits contained in the collections, the members of the Circle were more or less on their own but everyone voted the experience worth while and extremely interesting.

Our next meeting was held in Rooms 5 and 6 and the Committee in charge arranged a Vox Pop radio program. The contestants were taken to Room 6 where a microphone had been set up, and were put through their paces. The "audience" was seated in Room 5 where a loud speaker carried the program to them. The boys' team won the contest by a very narrow margin but both teams were given suitable prizes and the meeting adjourned.

Our annual Town Meeting will stand out as another interesting afternoon for the History Circle. On the appointed afternoon we gathered in Music Hall to be taken through the various phases of this all-important part of our town government. Moderator Peter O'Toole was present and acted in his official capacity as Moderator. A warrant containing seven articles was considered, and if we do as well in regular Town Meetings as we did in our "Mock" Town Meeting the citizens of Clinton need have no worry about its future.

Another enjoyable meeting was in the form of a Mock Trial with the usual charges and counter-charges flying thick and fast.

For our last regular meeting the Committee arranged to have our Town Solicitor, Myles O'Malley present a talk on the Citizenship. Mr. O'Malley's talk proved very instructive and timely and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

And now we are looking forward to the day of days -- our annual trip. Will it be Provincetown? That we can't say at present, because as this is being written the Circle hasn't voted. However from the trend of opinion among the members it looks very much as though June 24 will find at least 150 members of the 1940 History Circle sailing out of Boston harbor enroute to Provincetown.

Tau Sigma

The Tau Sigma club organized late in March this year under the direction of Mr. Gordon. Charles Nolan was elected President and John Merriman Secretary Treasurer.

Meetings were held on Wednesdays and manners at social affairs were discussed.

A public dance was held at Music Hall and the proceeds went to defray expenses for a banquet which was to be held at Seilers Ten Acres at a later date.

Shorthand Circle

For the first time in the history of the High School the stenography students realized the value of having a club, under the leadership of Miss Gannon.

Accordingly, on February 9, all shorthand enthusiasts gathered for their first meeting, at which the following officers were elected: Mary Schubert, President; Anna Yalian, Vice President; Eunice Winship, Secretary; and Florence Baker, Treasurer. Weekly practice sessions were held for improving shorthand speed and skill.

The members entered national shorthand and transcription contests with surprisingly favorable results. Certificates of progress and proficiency, and bronze pins were awarded to many students, while a few were fortunate in receiving silver and gold merit pins.

To end all activities of the club, the treasury is to be emptied for a gala picnic at Lake Wachacum.

Literary Club

The Literary Club was organized about the middle of this year by a group of Juniors and Seniors who were interested in writing poetry, prose, drama and other forms of literature.

There are ten members in the club and it was decided that there would not be a regular advisor for the club, but they would have a speaker at each meeting.

Instead of having the usual four officers, the Literary Club has but one — the secretary. This office was filled by Hazel Loewindorff.

The members took something they had written to each meeting so that helpful criticism might be made on their work. In this way, the members were inspired and encouraged to write their thoughts on paper. These thoughts often proved to be a lovely poem, historical essay, or an exciting adventure story.

The Literary Club meetings are conducted very informally and a suggestion from one of the members is always welcomed and appreciated by the others. In this way, ideas were improved upon and more ideas were developed and expanded.

Of the Seniors in the club, there is Martha Munter and Hazel Loewindorff who write short stories and essays; Lorraine Leedham, the congenial poet; Jack Cummings, the rambler; and Peter Garofoli, the newspaper reporter.

High School Orchestra

The orchestra, this year, has contributed much to the success of our graduation and as we prepare to receive our long awaited diplomas, strains of Schubert's "Marche Militaire" burst forth and we triumphantly march forward.

Although our orchestra is small in comparison with other schools, it is divided evenly and its members are well-trained.

The orchestra is accompanying the chorus in "Unfold Ye Portals" from the Redemption, by Gounod, "It Cannot Be a Strange Countree" by Charles Repper, and "Lovely Appear" by Gounod. For the outgoing march the orchestra plays "Stony Point" by Laurendeau.

The members of the graduating class comprising the High School Orchestra are: Edward Cecchini, Helen Pratt, Ethel Hester, and Daniel Zeates who have held prominent places in the violin section for the past four years; Edward Barlow, accomplished trumpet player; John Bergero, versatile clarinet and saxaphone player, who has also played since his freshman year; Hazel Loewindorff prominent cello player; Dorothy Ryan, Fannie Ziedel, Margaret Thomson, and Paul Lynskey equally accomplished pianists.

The Class of 1940 is indebted to Miss Driscoll for her untiring efforts in arranging a fine musical program and in training the orchestra to make our graduation exercises a success.

Thanks . . . .

If I Had My Way

Refreshments would be served at P. M. sessions
There would be gum slots in the corridors
There would be a lounging room for study periods
We would have a gymnasium
We would have assemblies three times a week
There would be Freedom of Speech
We would have a Beauty Culture Course
Seniors would take over the last quarter
There would be a cafeteria
We would have more social clubs
We would have new chairs
We would take tests with text books open
We could sign our own excuse slips
We would have elevators
We'd have more typing periods for shorthand students
We would have more five-point subjects
The testimonial mark would be seventy-five
We'd have more Johnny Appolos
Napoleon would graduate
We would have electric pencil sharpeners
We would have more curly-headed presidents
There would be school bus service for everybody
We would have water in the fountains
There would be full length mirrors in the dressing room — if we had a dressing room
We would have a school paper
There would be a waste paper basket in the back of the hall
We would have ten minutes to get to classes
We'd make more in Cookery.
We'd always know the answers
We'd change places with teachers just for a day

Alphabet

A stands for Athletes, of whom, we are proud
B stands for books and heads that are bowed

C stands for Clinton, the site of our school
D stands for Duty — our first Golden Rule

E stands for English, and Energy, too
F stands for French, we say entre nous

G stands for Gloom that comes after a flunk
H stands for History — without it we're sunk

I stands for Intelligence in a pupil's face
J stands for Juniors, taking our place

K stands for Keenness in using the hours
L stands for Love of this school of ours

M stands for Misery, brought by Mid Years
N stands for Nonsense, to chase away fears

O stands for O'Toole, our Senior Year Guide
P stands for Progress, our joy and our pride

Q stands for Questions, answered at last
R stands for recess in the Lecture Room passed

S stands for Study Hall ("Nothing to do")
T stands for "Testies" — we got all too few

U stands for Us, and what we have done
V stands for Vanity of honors we've won

W stands for Worry, with which tests are fraught
X stands for the mark that our papers got

Y stands for Youth, fast slipping away
Z stands for Zeal to live fully each day.

Faculty Phrases

"Eh bien, eh bien."
"Don't mind me, I only teach here."
"Another Ancient Animal, huh?"
"Are you going out that door — or shall I toss you out the window?"
"Would you care to conduct the class for me?"
"Fifty preambles from you — and no back talk."
"If you're planning to go anywhere, come and see me."
"Are you asking me, or telling me?"
"You can't come in here without a slip."
"Everyone in their seats — and per-fect-ly qu-i-et!"
"I'd love to see you some afternoon — at P. M. session."
"Where did you go to school?"
"Why don't you just stay home and dream?"
"You didn't study it, did you — you know you didn't study it — did you?"
"Did you come here to study, or for a social hour?"
"Cut the gabbing."
"I asked you first."
"I want your undivided attention."
"Now I have a friend ....."
"What did you think a polygon was — a dead parrot?"
"Girls!"
"There are two things we're sure of in life — death and taxes."
"Take this dictation."

Ode to the Faculty

Silently one by one
  On the infinite books of our teachers
Come the little zeros —
  The forget-me-nots of the Seniors.

Farewell

(Words and Music by Daniel Zeatas)

Slowly the sun sinks low in the west
Golden its glory, entrancing its light
Sweetly announcing the close of the day
Bringing fulfillment with the calm of night.

Thus do we stand at life's new day
Gathering strength from the school days now past.
Commencement day dawns, alight with youthful dreams.
Greet it dear classmates, high hopes hold fast.

Set we our course by the compass of truth.
"Onward and Upward" our motto shall be.
Farewell dear classrooms that cradled our youth
We're facing the new day of life's victory.

Fare thee well dear classmates.
Best of luck, adieu.
May the days unfolding
Bring their best to you.
